TEXANS TO VOTE ON 5 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS SOON

Voters Will Determine July 23 Whether They Wish to Abolish State Penitentiary Commission—Increase of Salary Paid Various State Officials Also Proposed.

Texas voters will determine July 23 the fate of five constitutional amendments which the last legislature agreed to submit, one of which will abolish the State Penitentiary Commission if it is adopted.

Adoption of this amendment might cause a reduction in state taxes, according to Representative Wallace Malone of Tarrant County. Should the amendment be approved it would be up to the next legislature to decide on some form of management for the penitentiary system. Malone believes that the best way to bring about an improvement in the penitentiary is to work up a new system.

Adoption of the five amendments would permit an increase in the salaries paid the governor, attorney general, treasurer, comptroller and land commissioner. Salaries for these officers were fixed thirty-five years ago. Persons advocating adoption of this amendment point out that living expenses in that day and the responsibility of the amendment would not automatically bring the increase in salaries. It would permit the legislature to raise the salaries as follows:

What Pay Might Be.
Governor, from $4,000 to any figure not to exceed $8,000; Attorney General from $4,000 to any figure not to exceed $7,500; Treasurer, Comptroller and Land Commissioner, from $2,500 to any amount not to exceed $5,000, and Secretary of State from $2,000 to any amount not to exceed $5,000. "The proposed increase in salaries of these officers is not large enough materially to increase taxes," Representative Malone said. "The pro rata of a person who pays on $1,000 worth of property would be only one-half of one cent, or five cents on every $10,000 worth of property."

Here is the way the amendment pertaining to these salary increases will read on the ballot: "For amendment to Sections 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the compensation of executive officers."

With the adoption of another amendment, the pensions being paid to Confederate soldiers and their widows would be increased. This amendment would require an increase of 2 cents from five cents now being paid to 7 cents on the $100 valuation.

May Soon Be Stopped.
Advocates of the increased pension plan say that within a few years the Confederate soldiers and their widows now aged, will have died and that this pension tax then will not be collected.

On the ballot the pension amendment will read: "For the amendment of Section 51, Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been residents of this state since January 1, 1910."

One of the other amendments follows: "For amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to mileage and per diem of members of the legislature of the State of Texas."

This amendment propose to reduce the mileage of traveling expenses of legislators to one-half of what it now is. It also proposed to pay legislators not to exceed $10 per day for a session of 120 days and $5 a day thereafter. If the amendment was adopted the legislature could pay less than this amount. The present pay is $5 a day for sixty days and $2 a day thereafter.

Those who are for the adoption of this amendment declare that it really would be a saving to taxpayers. They point out that the usual ninety-day session is not long enough to complete the business of the legislature, and that, if the session is prolonged the legislators cannot pay their expenses with $2 a day; that one longer session with sufficient pay would prevent the duplication of work required at

WOULD HAVE LOCAL CATTLE INSPECTED FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Danger of Human Infection Said To Be Real Menace—Germs Are Transmitted To Child and May Not Manifest Selves Until Maturity Is Reached—Owners Are Compensated.

A move is on foot among local advocates of disease prevention to cause the inspection for tuberculosis of all cows in this county supplying milk for consumption in this city. The need for a measure regulating this project is pointed out by those behind the movement who insist that one of the greatest sources of the dread disease among humans is to be found in the milk of affected cows.

County and city attorneys both favor such an inspection, but it is doubtful whether there is any effective ordinance covering this activity. A city ordinance was passed in 1911 requiring the inspection of dairy herds but has not been strictly enforced. There is no city measure covering the inspection of individual cows.

A regulation made by the State Sanitary Commission, however, covers the examination of separate cows and this may be invoked in the case of Wilbarger county.

Menace Is Great.
The need for such an inspection is strongly advocated by the county agent who declared that the menace from affected cows is much greater than generally supposed. He pointed out that hogs in the same lot or field with the cows can easily become affected and thus the disease is transmitted in more than one way.

"One of the chief dangers," said Dr. E. B. Jones, local veterinarian, "is the infection of infants from the impure milk of cows. Tuberculous germs often find their way into the system in this manner, and then do not manifest themselves until the child becomes an adult."

According to an account carried in a Fort Worth paper, an especial emergency appropriation is now available to indemnify stockmen for cattle reacting to the tuberculosis tests and slaughtered in the tubercular eradication work. This emergency appropriation makes it possible to slaughter immediately cattle reactors that were being held by the owners until July when the regular appropriation becomes available. The emergency appropriations will also result in payment to owners who have already waived their indemnity rights.

Slaughtered Under Supervision.

In the work of tubercular eradication now being conducted in the State, cattle found infected are shipped to stockyard centers and slaughtered under supervision of Government experts. One-third of the difference between the price brought by the salvage and the value of the cattle is refunded the owner by the Government, and one-third by the State. The indemnity in no case is to exceed $50 for a registered animal and $25 for a grade animal.

short sessions and would not be so expensive.

Three Voting Changes.

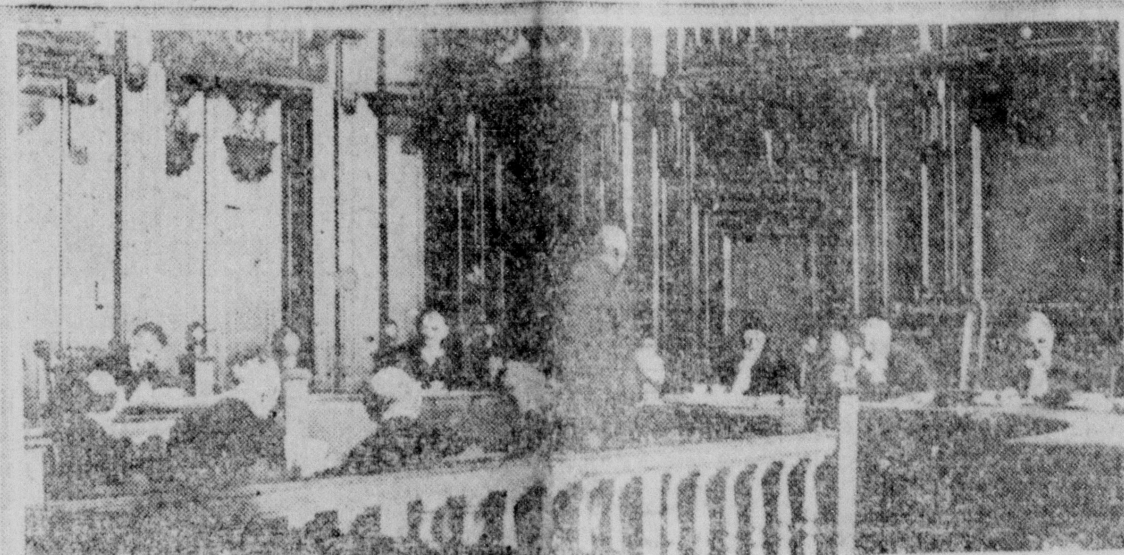

Three changes in voting laws would result with the adoption of the amendment that will appear on the ballot as follows: "For the amendment of Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified voters in this state and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefor, and permitting the legislature to authorize absentee voting."

Under the present constitution, foreigners are authorized to vote as soon as they declare their intention to become citizens. If this proposed amendment should be adopted, they must complete naturalization before they would be authorized to vote.

The second section of the same amendment applies to towns of more than 10,000 people. With present laws in effect, persons in such towns must get their poll tax receipts in person. If the amendment is adopted either husband or wife could pay the poll tax of the two and get the receipts for both payments.

Adoption of the amendment would permit the legislature to pass legislation whereby the absentee voting, as now in effect, would apply to general elections as well as primaries.

GERMAN WAR CRIMINALS SENTENCED AT LEIPZIG.

A remarkable photograph of the interior of the Supreme Court at Leipzig, made during the examination of a German ex-commissioned officer, Karl H. yncu, alleged to have been guilty of cruelty to British prisoners at Recklinghausen Camp Westphalia. The defendant, Heynen, is standing in the center. This is one of the first photographs to reach this country picturing incidents in connection with the trials of German war criminals at Leipzig.

JUNIORS SHOWED MUCH ENTHUSIASM

YOUNG CHAMBER LEADERS ENDORSED COOPERATION FROM ALL

"I have never seen as much enthusiasm manifested by young men as during the convention in Dallas last week of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce," said Everett Hancy, local chairman, who returned from that city Saturday. The second annual convention of the junior chamber was held in the city hall at Dallas, and approximately 300 delegates were in attendance. These came from twenty-one different cities over the country.

One of the principal points brought out at the convention, Mr. Hancy said, is what co-operation among even competitive organizations is capable of accomplishing. Young men in their twenties addressed the gathering on what has been accomplished thus far in their respective towns.

Censure Ambassador Harvey.
A resolution was passed by the convention censuring the recent speech of Ambassador Harvey in England when he declared that the "United States entered the past war to save its skin." A copy of this measure was forwarded to President Harding. Ambassador Harvey, and another furnished the press of the country.

Two of the principal speeches of the convention were given by Senator Cullen F. Thomas of Texas who talked on "Americanization."

Harvey On Committee.

The convention at Dallas lasted through Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week. Vernon was recommended for having enough interest to send a delegate to the meeting. Mr. Hancy said, and the chairman expressed the hope that in the future more communities of this size would send delegates. Mr. Hancy occupied a place on one of the resolution committees while in attendance at the convention.

George O. Wilson, Dallas lawyer, was the unanimous choice for president for the coming year. Headquarters for the organization will remain at St. Louis, Mo., it was decided.

WILL DEMONSTRATE TRACTORS.

Ford Representatives Will Exhibit Merits Of Fordson Tractor At Fairgrounds.

A Fordson tractor demonstration lasting from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon will be offered by the Napier Bros. Motor Co., Monday, June 27, at the fairgrounds. A representative from the Ford Motor Co. will be on hand as well as one from Morris Brothers of Dallas, who deal in farm machinery.

The exhibition will include a demonstration of the operation and efficiency of tractors, and the method of using farm machinery with these machines. The demonstrations will be conducted in front of the grandstand. The local firm plans to serve a free lunch to all who are in attendance Monday.

Miss Smith Undergoes Operation.

Miss Theresa Smith, daughter of Dr. Smith of Wichita Falls and well known in Vernon, underwent an operation for appendicitis in Wichita Falls yesterday. Miss Smith is a cousin of Mrs. Frank Marchison of this city, and a niece of R. C. Smith and Mrs. Mary Gibbs. Her condition is reported as satisfactory.

DR. NG. POON CHEW TALKS TO ROTARY

CHAUTAUQUA LECTURER TELLS OF IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE IN CHINA.

"Liquor produces a madman, while opium produces a mental and physical imbecile," Dr. Ng Poon Chew told the Rotarians at lunch today. Dr. Chew is editor of the largest Chinese language paper in the United, and is here to speak at the Chautauqua tonight.

"When a man goes home drunk he kicks his wife," Dr. Chew said; "and when he goes home full of opium, his wife kicks him. That is, you will agree, a most striking difference."

Dr. Chew told how the opium habit was fastened on China, because the British Indian government found the trade necessary to provide its income. China made the utmost endeavor to prevent the opium trade, and finally British merchantmen mounted guns which would fire on the Chinese officers. Then the Chinese government threw all the opium dealers in Hong Kong into prison and confiscated their drug.

England Forced Opium Trade.

England immediately made war upon China for interfering with trade of English subjects in the Orient, and forced the government to recognize the opium trade. Finally, in 1907 England and China ratified a treaty which provided for doing away with the opium trade at the rate of 10 per cent a year.

"You will not see a Chinaman wearing a queue now," Dr. Chew told the Rotarians, and explained that the queue originated when the Manchus conquered China, the conquerors requiring every one to wear a queue as a sign of submission. Dr. Chew cut off his queue shortly after he came to America about thirty years ago.

"There are more than 2,600 Chinese students in American colleges," the speaker said. "China looks to America as her example, because America is the only land which has not tried to gobble up some of China, and which prevented the partition of the empire. It is the prayer of my people that America may continue to be, not only the land of the free, but the hope of oppressed people all over the world."

Streets Being Widened.

Dr. Chew referred to improvements going on in China. The streets in Canton, he said, were only about 7 feet wide. When it was decided necessary to widen them, everybody was notified to come in and record again their property, fixing its value for taxable purposes.

The values given were very low, of course, Dr. Chew said, because the people wanted to avoid paying taxes. Then the government announced that land sufficient to cut a street 150 feet wide running each way through the city was to be condemned and paid for at the value fixed on it by its owners. As a result, the cost was relatively small. Steel is being laid now for a street railway in Canton, under direction of a former student from China in Columbia University, New York City.

Dr. Chew says all Chinese students are required to study English, and all modern sciences are in English.

Negress Attempts Suicide.

Zella Allen, negress, narrowly escaped death about 9:30 last night when she consumed a quantity of carbolic acid in an alleged attempt to commit suicide. She was in a critical condition last night.

GOLF PLAYERS REACH SEMI-FINALS

FINALS IN HILL CREST TOURNAMENT MAY BE PLAYED ON THURSDAY.

Part of the semi-finals in the Hill Crest golf tournament will be played off today when W. N. Stokes meets Jed Morrow for eighteen holes. The winner of the match will meet either E. C. Christian or Hub Colley who will probably play tomorrow. The finals will in all probability be played Thursday.

There have been numbers of upsets in the calculations of local golfers concerning the winners of various matches. Several of those eliminated who were expected to contest in the finals have been the recipients of large baskets of flowers from sympathetic women folk of the community.

Following are results in the third round of play. Jed Morrow defeated T. H. Coffey 56 to 65; W. N. Stokes defeated G. C. Morris 58 to 61; Hub Colley defeated Emory Rhoads 61 to 68; and E. C. Christian defeated R. B. Gibson 59 to 62.

The matches in both semi-finals and finals will be played over eighteen holes.

TO HAVE RUMMAGE SALE.

Local Red Cross Will Raise Money In This Manner For Free Milk And Ice For Poor of Town.

To raise money for a milk and ice fund for the benefit of the poor of this community the local chapter of the American Red Cross will hold a rummage sale in about two weeks. The exact date has not yet been set, and the place has not been arranged, but it is requested by the committee in charge that all those who have old clothes which they will donate for the sale gather them together and be ready to deliver them as soon as the place is announced. If any one wishes to make a donation before that announcement is made, bundles may be left at the house of Mrs. J. N. Johnson.

Any sort of wearing apparel will be acceptable for the rummage sale, according to Mrs. E. A. Williams, a member of the committee, provided the clothes are wearable and clean.

At the present time there is no charity milk and ice fund in Vernon and now that hot weather has set in and babies of poor families are suffering as a result, it is thought necessary to maintain one. The co-operation of every one is desired in raising money by means of the rummage sale.

MISS MARGARET THIEME MARRIES R. G. YARBROUGH

R. G. Yarbrough of this county and Miss Margaret Thieme of Vernon were married Saturday afternoon at the residence of S. T. Reeder, about seven miles south of town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Rodgers.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oils Thieme, and has many friends locally. The young couple will make their home on Mr. Yarbrough's farm.

Were Married at Tolbert.

Miss Lena Marlow of Vernon and Eylee Sweetman of Fargo were married at Tolbert Saturday evening by Rev. R. V. Tooley of that community. The bride, who is an attractive and accomplished young lady, formerly lived at Fargo. Mr. Sweetman is a farmer.

PLANS MADE TO BRING CHAUTAUQUA HERE NEXT YEAR

Committee Will Circulate Petition For Names Of At Least Thirty Responsible Guarantors—Manager Enthusiastically Commends Local Audiences For Spirit Manifested.

Definite plans for bringing the Redpath-Horner Chautauqua Company to Vernon next season were made this morning at a meeting of a group of business men in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. A petition will be taken around today for the signatures of at least thirty responsible guarantors and the project is in charge of J. H. Pendleton and W. N. Stokes.

J. E. Nye, manager of the local chautauqua, offered the entertainment for next year at $100 less than was the cost this season. Guarantors here pledged $1,700, including war tax, for the program this summer. Prospects last week-end indicated that this amount would not be raised, but strenuous efforts on the part of the committee resulted in a successful campaign for the funds and nearly $200 additional.

The petition for this year contained the names of more than 100 signers, many of whom have since left town. It was circulated indiscriminately among townspeople, and as a result the backing of a great part of those was lacking when individuals were counted at the opening of this season.

"Vernon is without a doubt one of the finest towns on our circuit," J. E. Nye remarked enthusiastically this morning. "All of the talent that has been here is hearty in commendation of the applause and response they receive from the audiences. It has been a splendid showing, and we are very well pleased."

Concerning the program that will be offered next year, Mr. Nye offered the assurance that it would be the best that money could buy. He stated that Mr. Horner spares no efforts or money in obtaining the finest that can be secured.

Is Well Received.

Chautauqua programs in Vernon this year have been received, on the whole, in better fashion perhaps than any preceding ones. From the first day, which opened with Vierra's Hawaiians until the curtain closed on "Broadway Jones" last night, those present have lent rapid attention to proceedings and applauded heartily.

Vierra's Hawaiians were well above the average of such musical performers, and the members of the troupe possessed excellent voices as well as being masters of steel guitar, ukalale, and other island instruments.

The Musical Grenadiers offered a pleasing program Saturday, and Henry A. Adrian charmed the audience in the evening with a graphic account of the wonders performed by Luther Burbank.

The Agnes Knoflekovia Company Sunday proved a worth while number for a day free in admission to the audience. Frank Dixon, noted lecturer, touched on the ills existing in our government in his address in the evening.

Broadway Jones Excellent.

Dr. J. Q. Robinson talked Monday afternoon on "The Lost Legacy." His talk was of the deep spiritual and inspirational type, and was immensely enjoyed. In the evening the attraction was "Broadway Jones," the great Cohen success. The play was most capably presented throughout, and the audience showed its appreciation continually with frequent rounds of applause.

Today the Glen Well Company and Mme. Selivanova will entertain in the afternoon, and Dr. Ng Poon Chew, the noted Chinese lecturer, and the Glen Wells Company will present a program this evening.

Federation Postponed.

The regular meeting of the County Federation which was to have been held tomorrow afternoon has been postponed until June 29 on account of the Chautauqua.

Open House At Hill Crest.

Hill Crest Country Club members will enjoy open house in their new home each Friday evening henceforth, according to an announcement of the house committee. There will be informal dancing at these occasions.

AGNES GELHAUSEN LOSES LIFE IN SWIMMING TRAGEDY

Death Occurs After Boat At Condon Pool Fills With Water and Turns Over—Store Keeper Rescues Two Girls—Accident Occurs In Water Barely Over Head.

A tragedy resulting in the death of Miss Agnes Gelhausen and a narrow escape from a similar fate on the part of her companions occurred last evening at Condon's pool, about two miles west of town. Miss Gelhausen drowned after a boat, which was being used as a raft by a party of swimmers, overturned in about six and one-half feet of water. The suspicion on the part of eyewitnesses to the accident is that the young lady was struck on the head by the edge of the boat and was stunned as her head bears a heavy bruise evidently made in this manner.

The tragedy took place after a moonlight picnic party of seven young people, Misses Gertrude and Agnes Gelhausen, Esther Teinert, and Agnes Lucke of Wichita Falls, and Messrs. Arthur Hingst, Walter Teinert, and Hugo Gelhausen. Teinert and Gelhausen are brothers of the girls in the party.

Decided On Swim.

The young people had been playing tennis late in the afternoon and then decided on a picnic supper at Condon Springs. The affair was arranged in honor of Miss Agnes Lucke of Wichita Falls who is visiting Miss Teinert. After the supper, a boat ride was suggested and all participated in rowing about on the pool, which is small and comparatively shallow.

Tiring of this sport, one of the party urged a swim and the suggestion was immediately taken up. After renting suits at the bath house, the young people splashed about in the water, hanging on to the sides of a boat which they permitted to drift out past a wire indicating a dead line for those who could not swim.

Boat Filled With Water.

Climbing in and out of the boat and splashing of water soon filled the craft nearly to the sinking point, and it was then that it turned over, supposedly striking Miss Agnes Gelhausen on the head. None of the party was a good swimmer, and in the confusion that resulted the drowned girl was forgotten. The young men made desperate efforts to bring their companions to shore which was only about fifteen feet distant.

H. A. Estes, in charge of the lake and store for Mr. Condon, brought Miss Gertrude Gelhausen to safety and returned for Miss Teinert, saving her after she had apparently sunk for the last time. Estes jumped into the water fully clothed and rescued the girls only after tremendous difficulty. Hingst, Gelhausen, and Teinert finally made their way to shore.

Under Water 20 Minutes.

It is thought that Miss Agnes Gelhausen remained under the water practically twenty minutes, and her body was finally brought to the surface by Aubrey Foster who had been swimming nearby in the Hill Crest lake. Foster dove for the girl and struck her body on the first attempt. Aid was immediately summoned, and four physicians worked over the lifeless form until after midnight.

Miss Teinert was in a critical condition after being resuscitated, and regained consciousness only after hard work on the part of the physicians. She is somewhat improved today but still ill from her experience. Miss Gertrude Gelhausen was also badly strangled, but recovered soon after the accident.

Miss Agnes Gelhausen was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gelhausen living at 203 South Fannin St. Mr. Gelhausen is proprietor of the Vernon Ice Cream Co.

Native of Vernon.

The young lady was 22 years old and was born January 29, 1899. She was born and reared in Vernon and possessed a host of friends among local townspeople. After attending local schools, she studied piano and violin under Professor Goetze and became an accomplished musician. She has played before Vernon people many times and was recognized as being most capable.

Miss Gelhausen taught school two years in Tolbert, and planned to teach the past year at Elliott but was prevented.

Today—Dorothy Dalton in "A Romantic Adventure."

Miss Dalton has the role of Alice Vanni, daughter of an old dancing professor who dies and leaves her to be exploited by her faithless mother. She finds out the true situation just in time to marry the man she loves.

Wednesday—"In the Heart of a Fool."

This is the story of a moral leper whose heart was that of a fool. His self-indulgence, wrecking the life of others, also shattering his own, though when the occasion demands it his spirit rises to the supreme heights of self sacrifice and courage. He ran up against two kinds of women—Laura Nesbit was the sort who could make a man while the Lordie was the kind who breaks instead of makes.

Thursday—"To Please One Woman."

At the Pictorium.

Today—William Fairbanks in "The Heart of the West."

This is a story of men, in the full meaning of the word, of desires, of love of hats and of the struggles of our early pioneers and gold seekers, when the law of the land was the six shooter and when the survival of the fittest meant the quickest of the draw.

Wednesday—"A Beggar in Purple."

He dedicated his life to making another pay for a certain wrong and in his desire for revenge he plowed through every obstacle and won. With the fulfillment of his ambition came the realization that the girl he loved was marrying him for his money. Then came to him misfortune which later proved to be good fortune.

Thursday—June Caprice in "Rogues and Romance."

An American girl visiting Spain falls in love with a revolutionist who has a price on his head. After she has been captured and held for ransom she is glad enough to have her American lover rescue her and take her where she will never see a revolutionist again.

GUINEA CHICKS THRIVE BEST ON WELL-BALANCED RATION

Guineas are fed in much the same way as chickens, but they require less feed, as they are natural rangers and can be trusted to find enough seeds of weeds and grasses, buds, insects, and green vegetation in the fields to supply much of their living. For the first 36 hours after hatching no feed is required, as the sustenance from the egg is sufficient to nourish them for this period. The first meal may consist of a little hard-boiled egg mixed with bread crumbs, or bread may be soaked in milk, squeezed partly dry, and fed in small bits. Chabbered milk also is very good, poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say.

Three times a day is as often as they need to be fed, one feed consisting of chabbered milk or bread crumbs and egg or bread and milk mixture, and the other two of chick feed. If the coop is placed in a field or pasture where green feed is available, the guinea chicks can secure this for themselves; otherwise, sprouted oats, dandelion leaves, lettuce, or onion tops cut fine should be furnished. Water, grit, and fine oyster shell should be before them always.

By the end of the first week the young guineas will be finding enough worms and insects to take the place of the egg or milk feed, so this may be eliminated and chick feed given morning and night. If chabbered milk is available, however, it can be continued with excellent success, since guineas are very fond of variety in their ration and it is conducive to quick growth. As the birds grow older whole wheat, oats, and cracked corn can be substituted gradually for the chick feed.

NEW PAVEMENT OPEN FOR TRAFFIC SATURDAY MORNING

New paving east of town on the road leading to Oklahoma will be opened for traffic Saturday morning, according to an announcement of the county engineer. This stretch will add materially to the pleasure of local automobilists.

Reports from Wichita county indicate that the stretch of pavement from Iowa Park to Wichita Falls has also been opened to the public.

The new dry chief was one of President Harding's earliest supporters for the Presidency.

SALADS FOR THOSE WHO LIKE CHEESE

Cheese often makes delicious addition to a salad. The following recipes for salads in which cheese plays an important part are recommended by food specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture:

Cheese Jelly Salad.

1/2 cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon gelatin, 1 cup whipped cream, salt and pepper to taste.

Mix the cheese with the whipped cream, season to taste with salt and pepper, and add to the gelatin dissolved in a scant cup of water. This may be molded in either large or small molds. When the jelly begins to harden, cover with grated cheese. The jelly should be served on a lettuce leaf, preferably with a cream or French dressing to which a little grated cheese has been added.

Cheese And Pimento Salad.

Stuffed canned pimentos with cream cheese, cut into slices, and serve one or two slices to each person on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese and Tomato Salad.

Stuff cold tomatoes with cream cheese and serve on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese Salad And Preserves.

Epicures have devised a dish which consists of lettuce and French dressing served with cream cheese and thick preparations of currants or other fruits preserved in honey or sugar. Owing to the fact that the seeds have been extracted by a laborious process, these fruit preparations are fairly expensive. The soft cheese often found in market is also relatively expensive. There is a suggestion in this dish, however, for others which are much less costly. Ordinary cottage cheese served with lettuce or other green salad and a small amount of rich home-made preserves, is a combination with much the same character, and very appetizing.

Deviled Eggs With Cheese.

In making deviled eggs, either to be eaten alone or upon lettuce leaves in the form of salad, a little grated cheese may be mixed with the yolks in addition to the usual salad dressing and flavorings.

Plain Cheese Salad.

Cut cheese into thin pieces, scatter them over lettuce leaves, and serve with French dressing.

Olive And Pimento Cheese.

Mash any of the soft cream cheeses and add chopped olives and pimentos in equal parts. This mixture requires much salt to make it palatable, the amount depending chiefly on the quantity of pimentos used. The mixture may be spread between thin slices of bread or it may be made into a roll or molded, cut into slices, and served on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese balls are often served with salad. They are made of soft cream cheese, and are frequently combined with chopped olives, olives, sweet peppers and nuts. Cooked egg yolk, spinach extract, etc., are sometimes mixed in for the sake of color. If the balls are rolled in chopped olives or parsley, both flavor and color are supplied.

Service Resumed On Frisco.

Service has been resumed on the Frisco into Vernon after an interruption of several days due to heavy rains. The first train came through Saturday night and the old schedule is being observed again.

THERE'S LOTS TO SEE UNDER THE CANVASS TOP

Have you been out on West Texas Street under the big canvass roof the past week? Did you hunt up that old fan from the depths of the china closet and that folding chair you had stored away in the attic? Well, everyone else did, too, and the tent has been full of them.

There has not been such a "get-together" affair for Vernon town folks for many months. You will find Mrs. Jones and the children, Widow Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and all the rest of the neighbors, and everyone appears to be enjoying himself immensely.

The children have been better than usual this year, too. Johnny and Mary and the host of others have evidently been the targets of lectures at home from mother and dad on the necessity for absolute quiet and absence of impatient wiggling while lecture or entertainment is in progress.

Tent Not Uncomfortable.

It is not as hot under the "big top" as one might think. The flaps are turned up and the June breezes have easy access. In addition, one forgets the heat during most of the performance, the body ignores any minor discomforts while the mind drinks in a lecture or finds relaxation in music or play.

It is worth while, this week-long entertainment which has come to the people of the community. The best talent in the country offers its knowledge, its wit and its humor for the benefit of local audiences. It is worth carrying a chair a long ways, or waving a fan most vigorously for hours just to profit by.

Farmers Conserve Machinery.

Harvesting business this year has manifested itself principally in an increasing business, according to Clyde Orr of Terhune-Orr Implement Co. Farmers are evidently trying to conserve the machinery they possess instead of purchasing new tools. The firm is expecting a brisk trade in disc plows.

O. A. Brunson went to Wichita Falls Monday on business.

LONGEST SUSPENSION BRIDGE ACROSS DELEWARE.

A suspension bridge across the Delaware River, linking Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., has been approved by the joint Pennsylvania-New Jersey Commissions. The proposed bridge will surpass by 150 feet the longest suspension bridge in the world. The cost of the bridge and the approaches will be $28,810,000. Six roadways are provided for in the plans. In addition, there are to be four trolley lines and two ten-foot walks for passengers. The East Main River Tower will rise 380 feet above the Delaware River. The span will be 1,750 feet. The illustration shows the engineer's sketch of how the bridge will look after it is completed.

ATTENDS FATHER'S FUNERAL

William A. Burch, Formerly of This County, Dies At Home Near Wichita Falls June 17.

M. L. Burch returned yesterday from Wichita Falls where he attended the funeral of his father, William A. Burch, who died at his home near that place last Friday. Burial was in Dundee Cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Burch lived in Odell for five years and is well known in this county. He went to Wichita Falls to make his home with a daughter only a few years ago. He came to this county from Hamlin.

Pneumonia caused the death of Mr. Burch who was 61 years old. He is survived by nine children: M. L. and Grady Burch, both of Vernon; Mrs. J. H. Rayborn of Wichita Falls; Miss Sue Burch of Texarkana; C. M. Burch of Goldthwaits; Will Burch of Oklahoma City; Walter Burch of Hill County; Chas. Burch of Moran and Mrs. T. H. Brown of Fort Worth.

Christians Defeat Methodists.

Four runs in the final inning of the game spelled defeat for the Methodist Sunday School baseball team yesterday afternoon after it had led the Christian aggregation for two successive innings. The game ended 6 to 4 in favor of the Christian team. Methodists made six errors which helped materially in costing the game, as Lovelace pitched excellent ball throughout the contest.

BARGAIN BASEMENT OPENING AND JUNE CLEARANCE SALE

Two of Our Biggest Events Rolled Into One SALE BEGINS SATURDAY, JUNE 25, LASTS 10 DAYS

On Saturday, June 25th, we will open our new BARGAIN BASEMENT, the biggest thing of its kind in Vernon. We venture to say that it will be impossible for you to find a more complete stock of home furnishings anyplace than we will show you at our big opening. We are following, to the letter, our slogan "We Sell For Less." You will be greatly surprised at the remarkably low prices on all of our stock of goods in the BARGAIN BASEMENT.

We are combining our June Clearance Sale with the opening of our BARGAIN BASEMENT. We offer to the people of Wilbarger and surrounding counties, during these two big trade events, some of the most exceptional buying opportunities that can be found anywhere. A real money-saving proposition on everything, in our Dry Goods Department as well as the BARGAIN BASEMENT.

During these 10 days we have a place where your money will have its maximum buying power.

IT'S UP TO WILBARGER.

By a vote of 7 to 1 Wichita County declared Saturday in favor of changing $1,500,000 five per cent 40-year bonds into an equal amount of six per cent 30-year serial bonds to build permanent highways. The sale of these six per cent bonds has already been arranged.

Wichita's highway system will include the main road from the Clay county line to the line of Wilbarger county, a road from Wichita Falls to Red River, via Burk Burnett; and a road toward Seymour to the Baylor county line. State and Federal aid will make the total to be expended in Wichita County slightly more than $3,000,000.

The advantage of such a system of highways to Wichita County can not be overestimated. Wichita farmers can haul their produce to market in half the time required on dirt roads; Furthermore, they can go to market whenever it suits their convenience—rain or shine. So, also, can their families go to Wichita Falls, Iowa Park, Electra, or Burk Burnett at any time. This means that practically every farmer in Wichita county is a citizen of one of the towns of the county—and he does not have any of the disadvantages of the towns.

While the value of such a system of highways can not be computed in dollars, it is not difficult to visualize something of their value in the saving of time to the farmer, in the making of farm life more attractive, and, as a result, their influence in attracting the most progressive farmers to Wichita county.

The State and Federal Governments offer to pay more than half the cost of constructing a permanent system of highways in Wilbarger county. How much longer will our people object to paying the other half?

BOOST YOUR TOWN!

Those who failed to hear the talk of Charles H. Plattenburg at the chautauqua last Friday night were denied a real privilege. Regardless of sex, creed, race, or age the lecture applied equally well and was all embracing in its scope and appeal.

Mr. Plattenburg talked on "The Town You Live In," and talked with a manner that betokened years of experience in studying the ailments of the average country town and the antidotes to remedy them. The chronic knocker, the mail order house patronizer, the restless citizen,—all shared in the criticism of the man who believes that a town good enough to live in is good enough to stand by.

The arguments of the chautauqua lecturer were those which would be naturally employed by the average logically thinking business man of today. They set forth reasons why a community cannot thrive without the co-operation of all its citizens, why a critical spirit on the part of its residents will do more to turn aside the prospective newcomer than all the lack of utilities that may exist.

A message such as the one given by Mr. Plattenburg is a blessing to the average community. It stimulates a ed by the general public, it places in a different light the proposition of loyalty and patriotism to the town one lives in.

The speaker stressed particularly the folly of patronizing mail order houses. From personal observations he quoted examples of the inferior quality of goods often dispensed from these establishments. Bringing that phase of the subject of a more local basis, it will be remembered that when Sears Roebuck Co. was selling sugar last winter at $16.30 per hundred pounds, Vernon grocers were selling the same product at $16. Similar discrepancies can be found in many other lines of goods.

The matter is well worth pondering over. It is not entirely one-sided in its scope,—all the sacrifice will not have to be entailed by the general public. The merchant must be content with a fair and legitimate profit if he is to expect the constant loyalty of his patrons. Pride, patriotism, and co-operation from the citizens of a community will go further toward producing a city of worth while calibre than any number of other efforts combined.

INCREASING THE LIFE RATE.

Approximately 100,000 men, women and children die in America every twelve months from tuberculosis. It has been found that one of the most frequent sources of infection by the great white plague is from the milk of tuberculous cattle.

Viewed in this light the matter of a tuberculin test for our cows assumes an importance heretofore unthought of. Men hesitate to spend $5, or even $1 for testing an animal now, because they haven't realized the danger of the disease to the cow, or horse, or hog.

But when we know that the milk our children drink may contain deadly germs—then the payment of even $5 for a test is an infinitesimal amount. Think of the money and the suffering it may save some loved one who might otherwise become a victim of the great white plague.

The tuberculin test for our cattle is one of the effective methods devised for helping eliminate humanity's greatest scourge.

WHY NOT AN INHERITANCE TAX.

Among all the reasonable propositions advanced by Dr. Frank Dixon in his Chautauqua lecture Sunday night—and all of them seem reasonable—for making more efficient our governmental machine, was that of an inheritance tax for paying our enormous national debt. It amounts to about twenty-five billion dollars.

A graduated inheritance tax would work a hardship on no one, it would not tend to stifle initiative as it is claimed that the income tax does, and it would unsettle industry as little as any other disposition of the inheritance.

Dr. Dixon says that from nine to ten billion dollars pass each year in the form of inheritance. So that it would not be difficult to subtract from this an amount ample to meet our needs, at least to a very large degree, without working a hardship on any one.

The exemption could easily be large enough to permit ample provision for any dependent on the deceased. Further than that, it seems most equitable that any accumulations should go to the general welfare.

He Is Looking 'Em Over Again

"Eight years of stomach and liver trouble reduced me to a walking skeleton. My skin was dried up and as yellow as a twenty-dollar gold piece. I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctors' medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man and am looking 'em over again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

TO HAVE LOAN CLOSET.

Red Cross Will Have Shower In Order To Get Articles Essential For Needy Sick Persons.

A shower for the Red Cross Loan Closet will be held at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Swartwood. Everyone is invited to come and bring one or more of the following articles: sheets, pillow cases, night-gowns for men, women, and children, bath towels, face towels and wash cloths. A social hour will be made as enjoyable as possible for those who attend the shower and refreshments will be served.

The loan closet is being fitted out for the benefit of sick persons in needy circumstances and will be in charge of Miss Rose Eilmann, Red Cross nurse, who will see to the loaning and the returning of the articles.

The Free Milk and Ice Fund will also be started tomorrow afternoon, as money is needed immediately and it has been decided that it would not be advisable to wait for funds until proceeds are received from the rummage sale.

PRESS LAUDS YOUNG GOTCH.

Newspapers: Pass Much Favorable Comment On Wrestler Who Appears Here July 4.

Newspaper clippings from various portions of the State credit Young Gotch, the middleweight wrestler, who will appear here July 4, as possessing much more than average ability. Gotch recently won decisions over Kid Thomas of St. Paul and Young Zybisko of Corsicana, and he is given considerable praise by the press.

Demon Bartell of Wichita, Kans., and Sailor Lewis have been two more recent victims of Gotch's wrestling prowess.

Gotch has declared that he will meet any Texas wrestler anywhere, stating that he particularly wants to meet Pet Brown, the noted Taylor grappler. He also has a match scheduled with Henry Irslinger. Young Gotch is known in Vernon, having been present on the occasion of wrestling matches in this city.

HOUSECLEANING IS NOT HARD IF THE PROGRAM IS ADOPTED

Housecleaning need not be the bugbear it has long been regarded in many households. If the work is carefully planned, if the kind of furnishings that are easy to keep clean are chosen and handled in the right way, and if provision is made for keeping all the dirt possible out of the house, there will be no need for the upheavals that result in discomfort to the entire household. The following are good rules by which to organize the housecleaning:

Keep dirt out of the house by cleaning the walks, steps, porches, and sills regularly and often, by screening windows and doors near the ground, and by insisting on having muddy shoes and coats cleaned, or left outside.

Lessen the number of dust-collecting places, such as unnecessary cupboards, grooved and curved woodwork, floors with cracks, rough-finished walls, elaborately carved and upholstered furniture, superfluous draperies, and bric-a-brac.

Remove dirt frequently and systematically. This keeps the house and furnishings in better condition, and makes the need of heavy cleaning less frequent.

Clean by taking the dirt away, not by scattering it, to settle again elsewhere.

Do heavy cleaning a little at a time to avoid the hard work and discomforts of the old-fashioned spring and fall housecleaning.

Have a supply of good cleaning tools such as your work calls for, and keep them in good order in a convenient place.

Watch for troublesome insects and animals, and take prompt measures to get rid of them if they appear.

Make all the family help by leaving things where they belong, and in good condition.

These rules are given by the United States Department of Agriculture in a new Farmers' Bulletin, No. 1180, Housecleaning Made Easier.

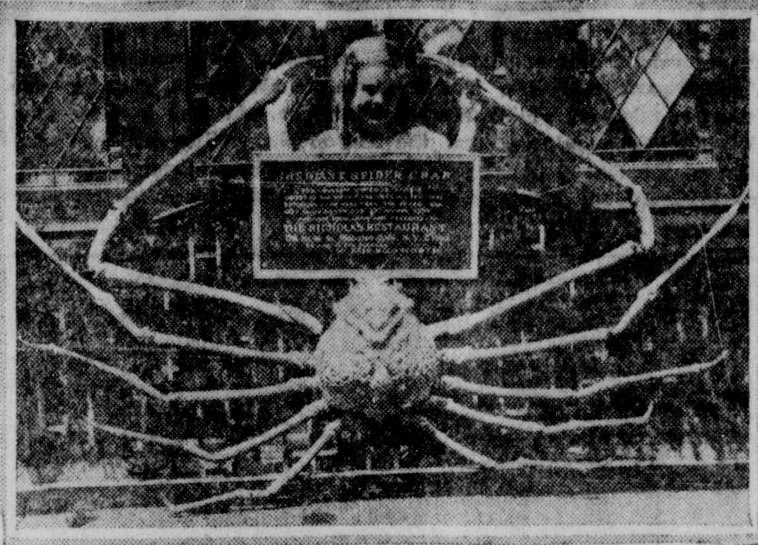

DO NOT INTERFERE WITH WIFE'S BUSINESS

An Ohio man dropped dead the other day while washing dishes in his kitchen. Today we have printed the following items which ought to serve as a warning to all men:

An Oklahoma man was totally paralyzed while sweeping a floor, an East Texas man had his eye knocked out while splitting stove wood, a West Texan cut his foot off while hoeing in a garden, and we lost part of our finger in a lawn mower. If men will insist on fooling with their wife's business after reading this list of warnings, they must assume all responsibility.—Exchange.

WHEN IT COMES TO CRABS, THIS ONE TAKES CAKE.

If you were to meet this Giant Spider Crab ("Macrochira Kaempferi") while in bathing it is very evident that your afternoon's pleasure would be over. This enormous crustacean, the largest crab ever caught, is estimated to be more than 500 years old. The front claws of the crab are each fifty-five inches long, which is longer than the entire length of six-year-old Rita Rogan, shown in the photograph. The monster is on exhibition at the Nicholas Restaurant, One Hundred and Seventy-eighth street and St. Nicholas avenue, New York City. The giant crab was caught in the Yellow Sea last winter.

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Vernon women. Read what Mrs. W. H. Thomasson, 610 Lexington St., Vernon, says: "My back and kidneys were in bad condition. My back ached and throbbed day and night right through the small part and through my hips. There was a dull, bearing down pain in my back and this hurt me so I could hardly do my housework. When I stooped over to pick up anything I became so dizzy I would almost fall on the floor. My head ached all the time and my kidneys were very irregular in action. I tried different remedies but received no benefit. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and one box of this medicine cured me entirely."

BELIEVES LOYALTY IS ESSENTIAL TO PROGRESS OF TOWN

Charles H. Plattenburg, Chautauqua Lecturer, Declares Every Citizen Owes a Debt To His Community—Says Every Advancement of Town Entails Sacrifice.

The address of Charles H. Plattenburg Friday night was one which vitally concerned everyone in Vernon. It dealt with the community in all of its phases, the need for co-operation on the part of citizens, the necessity for boosting the town and its attributes, and the essential part loyalty plays in the advancement of a community.

Mr. Plattenburg, who is a native Missourian but a resident now of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, possesses a peculiar method of address that grips the attention of the audience from first to last. His message is given in a forceful, convincing manner that drives home every point he wishes to make.

Loyalty Means Faith.

Loyalty, said the lecturer, means full of faith. There is often a woeful lack of patriotism in a town the size of Vernon, and this is one reason why there is such a stream of population emigrating from the smaller communities to the large cities.

California residents were used by Mr. Plattenburg as examples of live, energetic boosters. In that State, he said, every bush is a tree, and every town possesses some one thing that surpasses anything of its kind in the world.

Should Boost Town.

The only way to make one's home town prosper, said the speaker, is to boost it at every opportunity. Every individual owes a debt to his community and still it is the last one he wants to pay. He must realize, however, that is not charity but a real indebtedness he owes. Were it not for the town he lives in, few of his possessions would have any considerable monetary value.

Mr. Plattenburg dwelt upon the huge size of Texas, and remarked that were its population as dense as that of Belgium, it would contain 300,000,000 people. Lack of co-operation and boosting, however, has made the State drag in the matter of adding to its population, and New York City in ten years added 100,000 more people to its census than did the entire State of Texas.

Scores Mail Order Houses.

Patronage of mail order houses was blamed especially by the lecturer for the decline of many smaller towns. He declared that dealings with these establishments by citizens are the means of throttling the life out of the very community in which they live. The best platform upon which to build a thriving town is one that stipulates that business men shall be satisfied with a fair and legitimate profit, and people of the town shall be loyal to the merchants. Mr. Plattenburg mentioned an Iowa town that is now nearly defunct because its citizens commenced an active patronage of mail order houses several years ago. Eight thousand towns in the United States suffered the same way.

Quality considered, said the lecturer, it is probable that one can buy as cheaply in Vernon as anywhere in the world. Mr. Plattenburg pointed out the inferior quality of many mail order goods, and the cost entailed in shipping them. There is just one way to build up a town, he said, and that is to spend money in it.

All leaders do not come from the cities. Mr. Plattenburg informed his audience. When the Great War occurred, five of the most prominent figures in settling difficulties were men who started life as country boys. Wilson, Pershing, Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Marshall Foch—all these spent their boyhoods in small communities.

Population Is Centered.

One-tenth of the people in the United States live in New York, Chicago, or Philadelphia, said the lecturer. This is an unhealthy condition which can only be remedied by making the small towns fit places to live in.

Everything worth while costs something, the audience was told. Building, progress, and advancement of the community's interests can only be accomplished through sacrifice. The object of each citizen should be to help make his environment so attractive that persons would rather live in Vernon than any place else.

Mr. Plattenburg's remarks were not delivered with any degree of caustic criticism. He tempered his chiding with such charm of personality as well as complimentary remarks that they were insured of ready reception by everyone present.

CHAUTAUQUA MANAGER AT FREDERICK LIVED IN VERNON

Rev. Gordon Lang, who is in Frederick, Okla., as manager of a Redpath-Horner chautauque, will be remembered by many local residents as a former citizen of Vernon. Dr. Lang was living in this city and was a member of the Presbyterian church here when he entered the ministry.

The minister is quoted by The Frederick Leader as remarking about that town, "There were more rattlesnakes and gophers than human population in this part of Oklahoma when I came to Frederick as the first pastor of the Presbyterian church back in 1901." From Frederick Mr. Lang went to New York to attend a theological school.

An Ordinance Regulating the Parking of Trucks, Wagon, Motor Drays and Other Vehicles Used in the Business of Hauling and Transporting Freight for the Public for Hire as Common Carriers and Providing Adequate Penalties for the Violation Thereof.

Be it Ordained by the City (Commission) of Vernon, Texas:

Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person driving, using or operating any Truck, Wagon, Motor Dray or other vehicle within the City of Vernon engaged in the business of hauling or transporting freight for the public for hire to park same at any point on Main street between the North line of Marshall street and the South line of Maiden street, or at any point on Wilbarger street between the East line of Fannin street and the West line of Cumberland street, or at any point on Texas street between the East line of Fannin street and the West line of Cumberland street; provided this ordinance shall not be construed so as to prohibit any such vehicle from being stopped or parked for a reasonable time while actually loading or unloading freight.

Sec. 2. Any person who shall violate any provision of the foregoing section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 3. That this ordinance shall take effect from and after its approval and publication.

Witness my hand and seal of said City, this 15th day of June, A. D. 1921.

TRANSPORTATION COSTS WILL COMPEL FARMERS TO GROW MORE FOOD AT HOME

Increased transportation costs, and lessened returns from the products they have to sell will compel thousands of American farmers to grow more of their own food, in the opinion of officials of the United States Department of Agriculture. These transportation costs will prevent shipments of the more moderate priced fresh fruits and vegetables which are purchased by the growers of single crops or specialties for use in their own homes, and the lack of a market for special products in turn will be a blow to the buying capacity of the growers of those specialties.

"The American farmer is not going to be able this year to pay freight on water," said a department official. "Water makes up a large part of fresh fruits and vegetables. The answer is that he must grow his own table food. He must also study the possibilities of substitution. This applies to vegetables, fruits, poultry, eggs, and dairy products which must be transferred from commercial channels to home consumption if they are to come within the reach of the average farmer's family."

"Specialized farming has created conditions of which comparatively few persons are aware. The grain farmer in many instances buys even his potatoes and green vegetables; the fruit farmer buys his dairy products; and even the man who raised milk for creamery, condensary, or cheese factory is likely to send his cream or milk away, feed the skim milk or whey to the calves, and not make his own butter. This year, just as far as possible for him to alter his system in a single season, the department officials advise that he get back to the old plan which was aptly described as 'living at home.' This means not so much remaining on the farm as it does deriving every practicable product for consumption from the farm."

"The average American farmer knows how to raise other crops than those on which he specializes, but it has seemed good business, or at least expedient, to devote his energies to very few or even a single cash crop and buy his necessities, just as is done in other specialized industries. The grain farmer is perfectly capable of raising his own potatoes, his green garden stuff and melons, tomatoes and other garden fruits, to take the place of orchard fruits which in many parts of the country have been killed by the late freezes. If the farmer has a piece of really good garden ground he can add materially to the variety and wholesomeness of the farm food supply with scarcely any expenditure except for seeds, and seeds, fortunately, are lower this spring than for several years."

"The same may be said of poultry. With increased freight rates this year the general farmers principal meat supply will come out of his poultry yard, either in eggs or in table chickens and other fowls. Poultry is the quickest meat supply to produce, and the farmer will do well to build up a small flock as rapidly as possible. The increased freight rates on butter and eggs, together with the farm money shortage due to the disappointing returns from last year's crops, will make it advisable for many farmers' wives to return to butter-making arts which they learned as girls from their mothers, and which have been largely discontinued as farmers became specialists."

"Fruit is likely to be scarce in large and important farming regions, but its place can largely be taken by vegetable products. Two things are clear. In the first place, the average farmer, as it stands now, can not afford to pay freight rates on the water which makes up the larger part of both fresh and canned vegetables and fruits. In the second place, under existing conditions, he can raise those things cheaper himself than he can buy them, and he can make many substitutes out of the garden and poultry yard if he sets out to do it. He has not the money. It is not good business to run in debt except for essentials of production."

The Department of Agriculture will be glad to give information and advice to those who wish to diversify their homegrown food supply.

PROTESTS AGAINST ARTICLE CONCERNING LEAGUE WORKERS

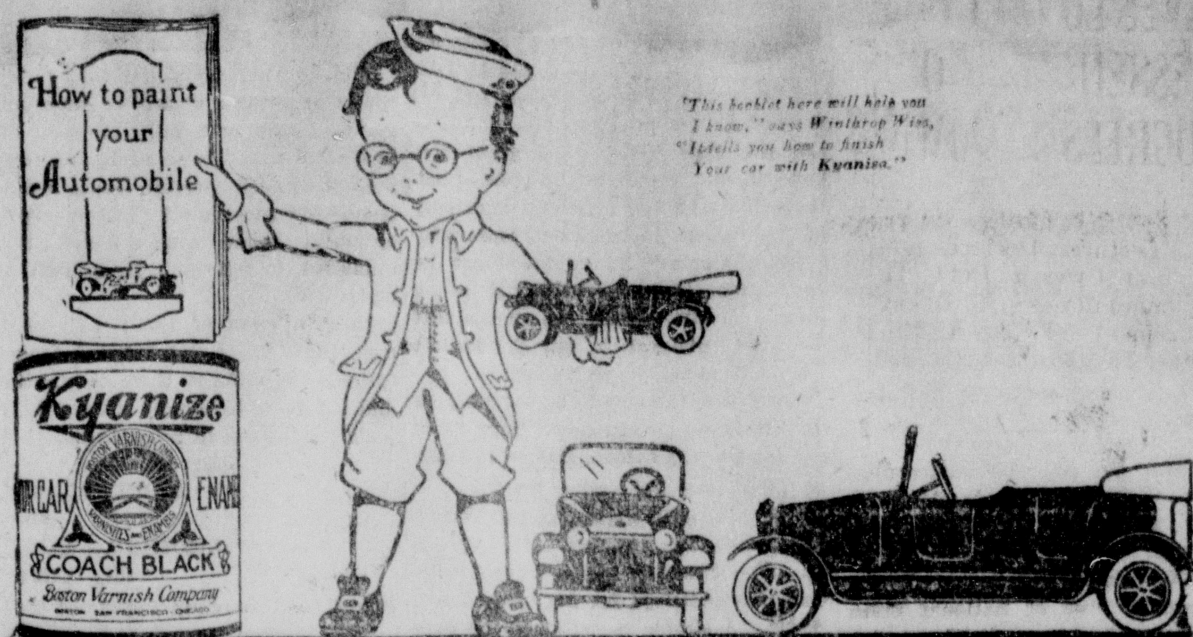

A protest concerning an article which appeared in a recent issue of The Record as an interview with Chamber of Commerce officials concerning Anti-Saloon League solicitors working in Vernon last July has come to the editor's desk. The communication is from Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, who declares that the workers in this community were bona fide representatives from the League, and not imposters as represented by the chamber.

Mr. Webb, who goes into a mass of detail concerning the activities of the representatives here and the purposes of the League, declares that the amount gained here was but $354.50. He denies the implication that the Anti-Saloon League is not needed by the Government, and quotes a number of testimonials to prove his point.

THE U. S. USCO TREAD

Here is the U. S. USCO Tread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S. Fabric line, the USCO has earned a reputation for quality and dependable economy which is not exceeded by any tire in its class.

Which one of your neighbors gets the best mileage out of his tires?

EVERY once in a while you hear a motorist say as he kicks a rear tire with an admiring foot, "there's a lucky tire!" Give him a chance and he'll tell you all about it. And then you'll find that what he calls "luck" is simply his first experience with a quality standard tire.

It all comes to this—buy a U. S. Tire anywhere in this country and you get definite, predictable value for your money no matter what weight car you drive.

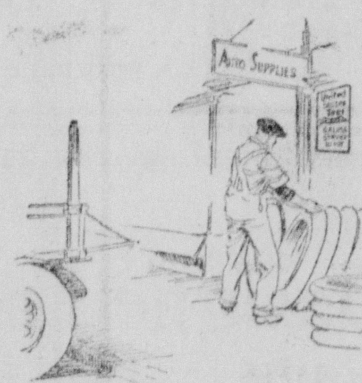

The man who has been guessing his way through "overstocks," "discontinued lines," "job lots" and the like, will find it refreshing to talk with the local U. S. Tire dealer who is concentrating on a full, completely sized line of U. S. Tires.

For the first time he will hear some straight quality tire facts—and get the difference between chance and certainty in tire buying.

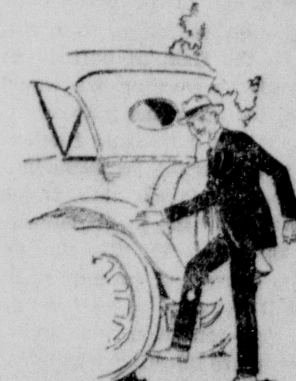

The U. S. Tires he sees in stock are fresh, live tires. They come direct to the dealer from his neighboring Factory Branch.

There are 92 of these Branches established and maintained by the U. S. Tire makers.

SAYS WAR LEFT US MANY TREMENDOUS PROBLEMS TO SOLVE

Frank Dixon, Chautauqua Lecturer of National Fame, Points Out Needed Reforms In Government—Believes Powers Of President Should Be Limited—Wants Compulsory Ballot.

The War has left us tremendous problems which we have taken but few steps to solve, was the message given to those in attendance at the chautauqua Sunday night by Frank Dixon, American lecturer of national fame. Mr. Dixon talked on "The Independent Tools of Democracy" and his address went to the heart of existing ills in our Government today and suggested needed reforms. The talk was calculated to spur the listeners on to thought and action concerning timely questions that have not been decided and which few have the courage to discuss.

The blame for high prices was placed mainly on the general public by the noted lecturer. People have insisted on paying extravagant charges for articles, he said, and the merchants have only taken advantage of this tendency.

Take Limits Off Production.

The only way in which to bring business back to a sound basis, the audience was told, is to take the limits off of production. The manufacturer who curtailed production and the worker who insists on loafing on the job must be eliminated.

We must replace the capital destroyed by the great War through taxation, Mr. Dixon declared. The financial condition of the world today makes this a big problem. The manhood of the country has made its contribution toward the nation's welfare, he said, but the wealth has not.

The graduated inheritance tax was advocated by the chautauqua speaker as the only method of taxation that would not work a hardship on anyone. In this way, he said, the national debt could be paid within ten or fifteen years.

Must Legalize Unions.

The question of daily wages was also dealt with in the lecture. Organized labor, the audience was told, is the most powerful and dangerous force in the world today. At present it is outside the law, it has no more responsibility than has a child or an idiot, simply because the law will not permit it to. Governments deal with this force as though it were a foreign enemy.

The reform needed is to require labor unions to come within the law, to be responsible. Mr. Dixon stated. Then they can incorporate and make contracts that are binding.

Concerning peace, the speaker said the entire nation desires this condition and so is easily deceived concerning the danger it may be in from foreign foes. This danger was likened to disease which none of us want but which we are likely to contract. The in frightfulness in comparison to the conflict which will come. Combat in past War, he said, was only a rifle the air and under the water will feature the next struggle, he said, and great cities like New York can be wiped off the map in a few hours.

Disarmament No Cure.

We cannot prevent this from happening by disarming, said Mr. Dixon. We must agree to universal conscription of every man, woman, and child as well as our entire wealth for the next conflict. There must be instant military discipline everywhere. It will be necessary to suspend private debts and devote every dollar to the Government. Persons should draw Government rations and wages. It would be against the law to make money out of the nation's peril, and no more than fair that those at home should be subject to the same laws of discipline as those who risk their lives on the field of battle. In this way, said the speaker, we would pick up our life after the war exactly where we laid it down, and furthermore, the nation would be invincible.

In discussing the farmer, Mr. Dixon declared that he is the most defenceless person in the world. The farmer is the burden bearer of the nation, he said, and will remain so as long as he permits this condition to exist. When his barns are bursting with plenty he is nearer bankruptcy than ever before. The proposition is up to the farmer to organize his forces in order to market his produce more effectively. The place of the ultra-conservatives and the radicals in this country were discussed by the lecturer. He declared that neither have any position with the American people.

Local Governments Strong.

Paralysis of our Government through party differences was also dealt with in the lecture. The audience was shown what this meant in the past War, and how the machinery of administration has been tied up during many periods. The secret of this nation's strength, he said, lies in the efficiency of its local governments. When there are questions to decide, the American people call on themselves and no others.

Mr. Dixon divided the Constitution into two parts, principles and individual liberties. The principles are expressed in the preamble, he said, and are the expressions of a great free government. However, he pointed out, there must be the efficient machinery of government to work out these principles. The results achieved are no better than the tools used for achieving them. He discredited the charge that we are disloyal to our forefathers when we attempt to better the machinery they invented for carrying on the affairs of government. They could not foresee the future, and could make no provisions for caring for it.

The method of amending the Constitution was also attacked by the speaker. The two-thirds and three-fourths rule was criticised for not being democratic. A simple majority is the only true method, Mr. Dixon stated, and this should be through the means of a national referendum. The people should be permitted to decide on these questions, and not their various state legislatures.

In commenting upon the ballot, Mr. Dixon declared that there should be compulsory voting. The women of the nation, especially, are neglecting this important function after striving so long and earnestly to win the privilege.

Should Have Direct Vote.

The president of the United States should be chosen by direct vote, said the speaker. Under the present system the man in a small state has little chance of winning, and he must furthermore be a resident of a doubtful state to be in the running. Ohio was quoted as an example of this condition.

Four months between election and inauguration of the President is obviously unnecessary, the speaker said. Ten days is entirely sufficient. This length of time was left by the framers of the Constitution because of the time consumed in getting election returns in the early days.

The powers and prerogatives allowed our President are entirely out of proportion to those permitted other officials of the Government, said Mr. Dixon. He possesses more influence than does any monarch in the world, and has unlimited power in declaring war and peace.

Powers Have Grown.

These duties were assigned the nation's executive by the framers of the Constitution because George Washington was first president and carried the trust of all his countrymen. Today, however, those same powers have assumed more vast proportions. If the President refuses to draw up a treaty today, said the speaker, the Senate is powerless to force him to do so. The veto power of the president was also attacked. Congress scarcely ever attempts to pass laws without first consulting the will of the President, he said. The principle of allowing equal authority to the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government is an impossibility, said Mr. Dixon. The power will gravitate to one or the other, and in this country it is to the executive.

This veto power should be denied the President, and then a cabinet formed within Congress. This is necessary to prevent inevitable conflict between cabinet members and Congress under the present system.

Must Adapt Machinery.

Our forefathers were concerned more with the principles of government and not the machinery, said the speaker. It depends upon us to adapt this machinery to the ends in view. We must have the means of instantaneously changing our administration if it becomes necessary. The action of England and France in this respect during the World War was quoted as an example.

Mr. Dixon ended his talk by declaring that he is not attempting to find fault with our Government, that he is not criticising its administration, but that he is merely attempting to point out some reforms that appear to be pressing needs today, and which will serve to further the interests of the country he loves.

HINDS WOMEN ORGANIZE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

Women of the Hinds community have organized a Home Bureau and will meet regularly hereafter once a month. Mrs. Anderson has been made president. Mrs. Cland Muller vice-president, and Mrs. J. R. Caldwell secretary-treasurer.

The women will meet with their president some time next month and receive a lesson in jelly making from home demonstration agents. They will also enjoy a swim in the new tank on Mrs. Anderson's place.

VOLUME 13.

Voters Will Determine July 23 Whether They Wish to Abolish State Penitentiary Commission—Increase of Salary Paid Various State Officials Also Proposed.

Texas voters will determine July 23 the fate of five constitutional amendments which the last legislature agreed to submit, one of which will abolish the State Penitentiary Commission of three members if it is adopted.

Adoption of this amendment might cause a reduction in state taxes, according to Representative Wallace Malone of Tarrant County. Should the amendment be approved it would be up to the next legislature to decide on some form of management for the penitentiary system. Malone believes that the best way to bring about an improvement in the penitentiary is to work up a new system.

This penitentiary system amendment will read on the official ballot: "For the amendment of Article 17, Section 58, of the Constitution abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners."

Adoption of the five amendments would permit an increase in the salaries paid the governor, attorney general, treasurer, comptroller and land commissioner. Salaries for these officers were fixed thirty-five years ago. Persons advocating adoption of this amendment point out that living expenses in that day and the responsibility of the amendment would not automatically bring the increase in salaries. It would permit the legislature to raise the salaries as follows:

What Pay Might Be.

Governor, from $4,000 to any figure not to exceed $8,000; Attorney General from $4,000 to any figure not to exceed $7,500; Treasurer, Comptroller and Land Commissioner, from $2,500 to any amount not to exceed $5,000, and Secretary of State from $2,000 to any amount not to exceed $5,000. "The proposed increase in salaries of these officers is not large enough materially to increase taxes," Representative Malone said. "The pro rata of a person who pays on $10,000 worth of property would be only one-half of one cent, or five cents on every $10,000 worth of property."

Here is the way the amendment pertaining to these salary increases will read on the ballot: "For amendment to Sections 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the compensation of executive officers."

With the adoption of another amendment, the pensions being paid to Confederate soldiers and their widows would be increased. This amendment would require an increase of 2 cents, from five cents now being paid to 7 cents on the $100 valuation.

May Soon Be Stopped.

Advocates of the increased pension plan say that within a few years the Confederate soldiers and their widows now aged, will have died and that this pension tax then will not be collected.

On the ballot the pension amendment will read: "For the amendment of Section 51, Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been residents of this state since January 1, 1910."

One of the other amendments follows: "For amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to mileage and per diem of members of the legislature of the State of Texas."

This amendment propose to reduce the mileage of traveling expenses of legislators to one-half of what it now is. It also proposed to pay legislators not to exceed $10 per day for a session of 120 days and $5 a day thereafter. If the amendment was adopted the legislature could pay less than this amount. The present pay is $5 a day for sixty days and $2 a day thereafter.

Those who are for the adoption of this amendment declare that it really would be a saving to taxpayers. They point out that the usual ninety-day session is not long enough to complete the business of the legislature, and that, if the session is prolonged the legislators cannot pay their expenses with $2 a day; that one longer session with sufficient pay would prevent the duplication of work required at

Danger of Human Infection Said To Be Real Menace—Germs Are Transmitted To Child and May Not Manifest Selves Until Maturity Is Reached—Owners Are Compensated.

A move is on foot among local advocates of disease prevention to cause the inspection for tuberculosis of all cows in this county supplying milk for consumption in this city. The need for a measure regulating this project is pointed out by those behind the movement who insist that one of the greatest sources of the dread disease among humans is to be found in the milk of affected cows.

County and city attorneys both favor such an inspection, but it is doubtful whether there is any effective ordinance covering this activity. A city ordinance was passed in 1911 requiring the inspection of dairy herds but has not been strictly enforced. There is no city measure covering the inspection of individual cows.

A regulation made by the State Sanitary Commission, however, covers the examination of separate cows and this may be invoked in the case of Wilbarger county.

Menace Is Great.

The need for such an inspection is strongly advocated by the county agent who declared that the menace from affected cows is much greater than generally supposed. He pointed out that hogs in the same lot or field with the cows can easily become affected and thus the disease is transmitted in more than one way.

"One of the chief dangers," said Dr. E. B. Jones, local veterinarian, "is the infection of infants from the impure milk of cows. Tuberculosis germs often find their way into the system in this manner, and then do not manifest themselves until the child becomes an adult."

According to an account carried in a Fort Worth paper, an especial emergency appropriation is now available to indemnify stockmen for cattle reacting to the tuberculosis tests and slaughtered in the tubercular eradication work. This emergency appropriation makes it possible to slaughter immediately cattle reactors that were being held by the owners until July when the regular appropriation becomes available. The emergency appropriations will also result in payment to owners who have already waived their indemnity rights.

Slaughtered Under Supervision.

In the work of tubercular eradication now being conducted in the State, cattle found infected are shipped to stockyard centers and slaughtered under supervision of Government experts. One-third of the difference between the price brought by the salvage and the value of the cattle is refunded the owner by the Government, and one-third by the State. The indemnity in no case is to exceed $50 for a registered animal and $25 for a grade animal.

short sessions and would not be so expensive.

Three Voting Changes.

Three changes in voting laws would result with the adoption of the amendment that will appear on the ballot as follows: "For the amendment of Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified voters in this state and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefor, and permitting the legislature to authorize absentee voting."

Under the present constitution, foreign-born are authorized to vote as soon as they declare their intention to become citizens. If this proposed amendment should be adopted, they must complete naturalization before they would be authorized to vote.

The second section of the same amendment applies to towns of more than 10,000 people. With present laws in effect, persons in such towns must get their poll tax receipts in person. If the amendment is adopted either husband or wife could pay the poll tax of the two and get the receipts for both payments.

Adoption of the amendment would permit the legislature to pass legislation whereby the absentee voting, as now in effect, would apply to general elections as well as primaries.

This is one of the first photographs to reach this country picturing incidents in connection with the trials of German war criminals at Leipzig.

JUNIORS SHOWED MUCH ENTHUSIASM

YOUNG CHAMBER LEADERS ENDORSED COOPERATION FROM ALL.

"I have never seen as much enthusiasm manifested by young men as during the convention in Dallas last week of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce," said Everett Hancey, local chairman, who returned from that city Saturday. The second annual convention of the junior chamber was held in the city hall at Dallas, and approximately 300 delegates were in attendance. These came from twenty-one different cities over the country.

One of the principal points brought out at the convention, Mr. Hancey said, is what co-operation among even competitive organizations is capable of accomplishing. Young men in their twenties addressed the gathering on what has been accomplished thus far in their respective towns.

Censure Ambassador Harvey.

A resolution was passed by the convention censuring the recent speech of Ambassador Harvey in England when he declared that the "United States entered the past war to save its skin." A copy of this measure was forwarded to President Harding. Ambassador Harvey, and another furnished the press of the country.

Two of the principal speeches of the convention were given by Senator Cullen F. Thomas of Texas who talked on "Americanization."

Harvey On Committee.

The convention at Dallas lasted through Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week. Vernon was recommended for having enough interest to send a delegate to the meeting. Mr. Hancey said, and the chairman expressed the hope that in the future more communities of this size would send delegates. Mr. Hancey occupied a place on one of the resolution committees while in attendance at the convention.

George O. Wilson, Dallas lawyer, was the unanimous choice for president for the coming year. Headquarters for the organization will remain at St. Louis, Mo., it was decided.

WILL DEMONSTRATE TRACTORS.

Ford Representatives Will Exhibit Merits Of Fordson Tractor At Fairgrounds.

A Fordson tractor demonstration lasting from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon will be offered by the Napier Bros. Motor Co., Monday, June 27, at the fairgrounds. A representative from the Ford Motor Co. will be on hand as well as one from Morris Brothers of Dallas, who deal in farm machinery.

The exhibition will include a demonstration of the operation and efficiency of tractors, and the method of using farm machinery with these machines. The demonstrations will be conducted in front of the grandstand. The local firm plans to serve a free lunch to all who are in attendance Monday.

Miss Smith Undergoes Operation.

Miss Theresa Smith, daughter of Dr. Smith of Wichita Falls and well known in Vernon, underwent an operation for appendicitis in Wichita Falls yesterday. Miss Smith is a cousin of Mrs. Frank Murchison of this city, and a niece of R. C. Smith and Mrs. Mary Gibbs. Her condition is reported as satisfactory.

DR. NG. POON CHEW TALKS TO ROTARY

CHAUTAUQUA LECTURER TELLS OF IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE IN CHINA.

"Liquor produces a madman, while opium produces a mental and physical imbecile," Dr. Ng Poon Chew told the Rotarians at lunch today. Dr. Chew is editor of the largest Chinese language paper in the United States and is here to speak at the Chautauqua tonight.

"When a man goes home drunk he kicks his wife," Dr. Chew said; "and when he goes home full of opium, his wife kicks him. That is, you will agree, a most striking difference."

Dr. Chew told how the opium habit was fastened on China, because the British Indian government found the trade necessary to provide its income. China made the utmost endeavor to prevent the opium trade, and finally British merchants mounted guns which would fire on the Chinese officers. Then the Chinese government threw all the opium dealers in Hong Kong into prison and confiscated their drug.

England Forced Opium Trade.

England immediately made war upon China for interfering with trade of English subjects in the Orient, and forced the government to recognize the opium trade. Finally, in 1907 England and China ratified a treaty which provided for doing away with the opium trade at the rate of 10 per cent a year.

"You will not see a Chinaman wearing a queue now," Dr. Chew told the Rotarians, and explained that the queue originated when the Manchus conquered China, the conquerors requiring every one to wear a queue as a sign of submission. Dr. Chew cut off his queue shortly after he came to America about thirty years ago.

"There are more than 2,600 Chinese students in American colleges," the speaker said. "China looks to America as her example, because America is the only land which has not tried to gobble up some of China, and which prevented the partition of the empire. It is the prayer of my people that America may continue to be, not only the land of the free, but the hope of oppressed people all over the world."

Streets Being Widened.

Dr. Chew referred to improvements going on in China. The streets in Canton, he said, were only about 7 feet wide. When it was decided necessary to widen them, everybody was notified to come in and record again their property, fixing its value for taxable purposes.

The values given were very low, of course, Dr. Chew said, because the people wanted to avoid paying taxes. Then the government announced that land sufficient to cut a street 150 feet wide running each way through the city was to be condemned and paid for at the value fixed on it by its owners. As a result, the cost was relatively small. Steel is being laid now for a street railway in Canton, under direction of a former student from China in Columbia University, New York City.

Dr. Chew says all Chinese students are required to study English, and all modern sciences are in English.

Negress Attempts Suicide.

Zella Allen, negress, narrowly escaped death about 9:30 last night when she consumed a quantity of carbolic acid in an alleged attempt to commit suicide. She was in a critical condition last night.

GOLF PLAYERS REACH SEMI-FINALS

FINALS IN HILL CREST TOURNAMENT MAY BE PLAYED ON THURSDAY.

Part of the semi-finals in the Hill Crest golf tournament will be played off today when W. N. Stokes meets J. Morrow for eighteen holes. The winner of the match will meet either E. C. Christian or Hub Colley who will probably play tomorrow. The finals will in all probability be played Thursday.

There have been numbers of upsets in the calculations of local golfers concerning the winners of various matches. Several of those eliminated who were expected to contest in the finals have been the recipients of large baskets of flowers from sympathetic women folk of the community.

Following are results in the third round of play. Jed Morrow defeated R. H. Coffey 56 to 65; W. N. Stokes defeated G. C. Morris 58 to 61; Hub Colley defeated Emory Rhoads 61 to 68; and E. C. Christian defeated R. B. Gibson 59 to 62.

The matches in both semi-finals and finals will be played over eighteen holes.

TO HAVE RUMMAGE SALE.

Local Red Cross Will Raise Money In This Manner For Free Milk And Ice For Poor of Town.

To raise money for a milk and ice fund for the benefit of the poor of this community the local chapter of the American Red Cross will hold a rummage sale in about two weeks. The exact date has not yet been set, and the place has not been arranged, but it is requested by the committee in charge that all those who have old clothes which they will donate for the sale gather them together and be ready to deliver them as soon as the place is announced. If any one wishes to make a donation before that announcement is made, bundles may be left at the house of Mrs. J. N. Johnson.

Any sort of wearing apparel will be acceptable for the rummage sale, according to Mrs. E. A. Williams, a member of the committee, provided the clothes are wearable and clean.

At the present time there is no charity milk and ice fund in Vernon and now that hot weather has set in and babies of poor families are suffering as a result, it is thought necessary to maintain one. The co-operation of every one is desired in raising money by means of the rummage sale.

MISS MARGARET THIEME MARRIES R. G. YARBROUGH

R. G. Yarbrough of this county and Miss Margaret Thieme of Vernon were married Saturday afternoon at the residence of S. T. Reader, about seven miles south of town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Rodgers.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Thieme, and has many friends locally. The young couple will make their home on Mr. Yarbrough's farm.

Were Married at Tolbert.

Miss Lena Marlow of Vernon and Eyllie Sweetman of Fargo were married at Tolbert Saturday evening by Rev. R. V. Tooley of that community. The bride, who is an attractive and accomplished young lady, formerly lived at Fargo. Mr. Sweetman is a farmer.

PLANS MADE TO BRING CHAUTAUQUA HERE NEXT YEAR

Committee Will Circulate Petition For Names Of At Least Thirty Responsible Guarantors—Manager Enthusiastically Commends Local Audiences For Spirit Manifested.

Definite plans for bringing the Redpath-Horner Chautauqua Company to Vernon next season were made this morning at a meeting of a group of business men in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. A petition will be taken around today for the signatures of at least thirty responsible guarantors and the project is in charge of J. H. Pendleton and W. N. Stokes.

J. E. Nye, manager of the local chautauqua, offered the entertainment for next year at $100 less than was the cost this season. Guarantors here pledged $1700, including war tax, for the program this summer. Prospects last week-end indicated that this amount would not be raised, but strenuous efforts on the part of the committee resulted in a successful campaign for the funds and nearly $2000 additional.

The petition for this year contained the names of more than 100 signers, many of whom have since left town. It was circulated indiscriminately among townspeople, and as a result the backing of a great part of these was lacking when individuals were counted at the opening of this season.

"Vernon is without a doubt one of the finest towns on our circuit," J. E. Nye remarked enthusiastically this morning. "All of the talent that has been here is hearty in commendation of the applause and response they receive from the audiences. It has been a splendid showing, and we are very well pleased."

Concerning the program that will be offered next year, Mr. Nye offered the assurance that it would be the best that money could buy. He stated that Mr. Horner spares no efforts or money in obtaining the finest that can be secured.

Is Well Received.

Chautauqua programs in Vernon this year have been received, on the whole, in better fashion perhaps than any preceding ones. From the first day, which opened with Vienna's Hawaiians until the curtain closed on "Broadway Jones" last night, those present have lent rapt attention to proceedings and applauded heartily.

Vienna's Hawaiians were well above the average of such musical performers, and the members of the troupe possessed excellent voices as well as being masters of steel guitar, ukulele, and other island instruments.

The Musical Grenadiers offered a pleasing program Saturday, and Henry A. Adrian charmed the audience in the evening with a graphic account of the wonders performed by Luther Burbank.

The Agnes Knoflecocka Company Sunday proved a worth while number for a day free in admission to the audience. Frank Dixon, noted lecturer, touched on the ills existing in our government in his address in the evening.

Broadway Jones Excellent.

Dr. J. Q. Robinson talked Monday afternoon on "The Lost Legacy." His talk was of the deep spiritual and inspirational type, and was immensely enjoyed. In the evening the attraction was "Broadway Jones," the great Cohen success. The play was most capably presented throughout, and the audience showed its appreciation continually with frequent rounds of applause.

Today the Glen Well Company and Mme. Selivanova will entertain in the afternoon, and Dr. Ng Poon Chew, the noted Chinese lecturer, and the Glen Wells Company will present a program this evening.

Federation Postponed.

The regular meeting of the County Federation which was to have been held tomorrow afternoon has been postponed until June 29 on account of the Chautauqua.

Open House At Hill Crest.

Hill Crest Country Club members will enjoy open house in their new home each Friday evening henceforth, according to an announcement of the house committee. There will be informal dancing at these occasions.

AGNES GELHAUSEN LOSES LIFE IN SWIMMING TRAGEDY

Death Occurs After Boat At Condon Pool Fills With Water and Turns Over—Store Keeper Rescues Two Girls—Accident Occurs In Water Barely Over Head.

A tragedy resulting in the death of Miss Agnes Gelhausen and a narrow escape from a similar fate on the part of her companions occurred last evening at Condon's pool, about two miles west of town. Miss Gelhausen dived after a boat, which was being used as a raft by a party of swimmers, overturned in about six and one-half feet of water. The supposition on the part of eyewitnesses to the accident is that the young lady was struck on the head by the edge of the boat and was stunned as her head bears a heavy bruise evidently made in this manner.

The tragedy took place after a moonlight picnic party of seven young people, Misses Gertrude and Agnes Gelhausen, Esther Teinert, and Agnes Lucke of Wichita Falls, and Messrs. Arthur Hingst, Walter Teinert, and Hugo Gelhausen. Teinert and Gelhausen are brothers of the girls in the party.

Decided On Swim.

The young people had been playing tennis late in the afternoon and then decided on a picnic supper at Condon Springs. The affair was arranged in honor of Miss Agnes Lucke of Wichita Falls who is visiting Miss Teinert. After the supper, a boat ride was suggested and all participated in rowing about on the pool, which is small and comparatively shallow.

Tiring of this sport, one of the party urged a swim and the suggestion was immediately taken up. After renting suits at the bath house, the young people splashed about in the water, hanging on to the sides of a boat which they permitted to drift out past a wire indicating a dead line for those who could not swim.

Boat Filled With Water.

Climbing in and out of the boat and splashing of water soon filled the craft nearly to the sinking point, and it was then that it turned over, supposedly striking Miss Agnes Gelhausen on the head. None of the party was a good swimmer, and in the confusion that resulted the drowned girl was forgotten. The young men made desperate efforts to bring their companions to shore which was only about fifteen feet distant.

H. A. Estes, in charge of the lake and store for Mr. Condon, brought Miss Gertrude Gelhausen to safety and returned for Miss Teinert, saving her after she had apparently sunk for the last time. Estes jumped into the water fully clothed and rescued the girls only after tremendous difficulty. Hingst, Gelhausen, and Teinert finally made their way to shore.

Under Water 20 Minutes.

It is thought that Miss Agnes Gelhausen remained under the water practically twenty minutes, and her body was finally brought to the surface by Aubrey Foster who had been swimming nearby in the Hill Crest lake. Foster dove for the girl and struck her body on the first attempt. Aid was immediately summoned, and four physicians worked over the lifeless form until after midnight.

Miss Teinert was in a critical condition after being resuscitated, and regained consciousness only after hard work on the part of the physicians. She is somewhat improved today but still ill from her experience. Miss Gertrude Gelhausen was also badly strangled, but recovered soon after the accident.

Miss Agnes Gelhausen was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gelhausen living at 203 South Fannin St. Mr. Gelhausen is proprietor of the Vernon Ice Cream Co.

Native of Vernon.

The young lady was 22 years old and was born January 29, 1899. She was born and reared in Vernon and possessed a host of friends among local townspeople. After attending local schools, she studied piano and violin under Professor Goetze and became an accomplished musician. She has played before Vernon people many times and was recognized as being most capable.

Miss Gelhausen taught school two years in Tolbert, and planned to teach the past year at Elliott but was prevented.

GO TO THEATRE

Today—Dorothy Dalton in "A Romantic Adventure."

Miss Dalton has the role of Alice Vanni, daughter of an old dancing professor who dies and leaves her to be exploited by her faithless mother. She finds out the true situation just in time to marry the man she loves.

Wednesday—"In the Heart of a Fool."

This is the story of a moral leper whose heart was that of a fool. His self-indulgence, wrecking the life of others, also shattering his own, though when the occasion demands it his spirit rises to the supreme heights of self sacrifice and courage. He ran up against two kinds of women—Laura Nesbit was the sort who could make a man while the Lordie was the kind who breaks instead of makes.

Thursday—"To Please One Woman."

This is a Lois Weber production based on one of the challenges of the age—how to please the one woman in a man's life.

At the Pictorium.

Today—William Fairbanks in "The Heart of the West."

This is a story of men, in the full meaning of the word, of desires, of love of hats and of the struggles of our early pioneers and gold seekers, when the law of the land was the six shooter and when the survival of the fittest meant the quickest of the draw.

Wednesday—"A Beggar in Purple."

He dedicated his life to making another pay for a certain wrong and in his desire for revenge he plowed through every obstacle and won. With the fulfillment of his ambition came the realization that the girl he loved was marrying him for his money. Then came to him misfortune which later proved to be good fortune.

Thursday—June Caprice in "Rogues and Romance."

An American girl visiting Spain falls in love with a revolutionist who has a price on his head. After she has been captured and held for ransom she is glad enough to have her American lover rescue her and take her where she will never see a revolutionist again.

GUINEA CHICKS THRIVE BEST ON WELL-BALANCED RATION

Guineas are fed in much the same way as chickens, but they require less feed, as they are natural rangers and can be trusted to find enough seeds of weeds and grasses, buds, insects, and green vegetation in the fields to supply much of their living. For the first 36 hours after hatching no feed is required, as the sustenance from the egg is sufficient to nourish them for this period. The first meal may consist of a little hard-boiled egg mixed with bread crumbs, or bread may be soaked in milk, squeezed partly dry, and fed in small bits. Chabbered milk also is very good, poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say.

Three times a day is as often as they need to be fed, one feed consisting of chabbered milk or bread crumbs and egg or bread and milk mixture, and the other two of chick feed. If the coop is placed in a field or pasture where green feed is available, the guinea chicks can secure this for themselves; otherwise, sprouted oats, dandelion leaves, lettuce, or onion tops cut fine should be furnished. Water, grit, and fine oyster shell should be before them always.

By the end of the first week the young guineas will be finding enough worms and insects to take the place of the egg or milk feed, so this may be eliminated and chick feed given morning and night. If chabbered milk is available, however, it can be continued with excellent success, since guineas are very fond of variety in their ration and it is conducive to quick growth. As the birds grow older whole wheat oats, and cracked corn can be substituted gradually for the chick feed.

NEW PAVEMENT OPEN FOR TRAFFIC SATURDAY MORNING

New paving east of town on the road leading to Oklahoma will be opened for traffic Saturday morning, according to an announcement of the county engineer. This stretch will add materially to the pleasure of local automobilists.

Reports from Wichita county indicate that the stretch of pavement from Iowa Park to Wichita Falls has also been opened to the public.

OHIO NEWSPAPER MAN IS NEW DRY CHIEF

Major Roy C. Haynes, of Hillsboro, Ohio, who succeeded John F. Kramer as Federal Prohibition Commissioner, Major Haynes is forty years old and has been editor of the Hillsboro Dispatch since 1908. He has long been active in Ohio politics and temperance matters and was endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League for his present post. The new dry chief was one of President Harding's earliest supporters for the Presidency.

SALADS FOR THOSE WHO LIKE CHEESE

Cheese often makes delicious addition to a salad. The following recipes for salads in which cheese plays an important part are recommended by food specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture:

Cheese Jelly Salad.

1/2 cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon gelatin, 1 cup whipped cream, salt and pepper to taste.

Mix the cheese with the whipped cream, season to taste with salt and pepper, and add to the gelatin dissolved in a scant cup of water. This may be molded in either large or small molds. When the jelly begins to harden, cover with grated cheese. The jelly should be served on a lettuce leaf, preferably with a cream or French dressing to which a little grated cheese has been added.

Cheese And Pimento Salad.

Stuffed canned pimentos with cream cheese, cut into slices, and serve one or two slices to each person on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese and Tomato Salad.

Stuff cold tomatoes with cream cheese and serve on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese Salad And Preserves.

Epicures have devised a dish which consists of lettuce and French dressing served with cream cheese and thick preparations of currants or other fruits preserved in honey or sugar. Owing to the fact that the seeds have been extracted by a laborious process, these fruit preparations are fairly expensive. The soft cheese often found in market is also relatively expensive. There is a suggestion in this dish, however, for others which are much less costly. Ordinary cottage cheese served with lettuce or other green salad and a small amount of rich home-made preserves, is a combination with much the same character, and very appetizing.

Deviled Eggs With Cheese.

In making deviled eggs, either to be eaten alone or upon lettuce leaves in the form of salad, a little grated cheese may be mixed with the yolks in addition to the usual salad dressing and flavorings.

Plain Cheese Salad.

Olive And Pimento Cheese.

Mash any of the soft cream cheeses and add chopped olives and pimentos in equal parts. This mixture requires much salt to make it palatable, the amount depending chiefly on the quantity of pimentos used. The mixture may be spread between thin slices of bread or it may be made into a roll or molded, cut into slices, and served on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese balls are often served with salad. They are made of soft cream cheese, and are frequently combined with chopped chives, olives, sweet peppers and nuts. Cooked egg yolk, spinach extract, etc., are sometimes mixed in for the sake of color. If the balls are rolled in chopped chives or parsley, both flavor and color are supplied.

Service Resumed On Frisco.

Service has been resumed on the Frisco into Vernon after an interruption of several days due to heavy rains. The first train came through Saturday night and the old schedule is being observed again.

THERE'S LOTS TO SEE UNDER THE CANVASS TOP

Have you been out on West Texas Street under the big canvass roof the past week? Did you hunt up that old fan from the depths of the china closet and that folding chair you had stored away in the attic? Well, everyone else did, too, and the tent has been full of them.

There has not been such a "get-together" affair for Vernon town folks for many months. You will find Mrs. Jones and the children, Widow Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and all the rest of the neighbors, and everyone appears to be enjoying himself immensely.

The children have been better than usual this year, too. Johnny and Mary and the host of others have evidently been the targets of lectures at home from mother and dad on the necessity for absolute quiet and absence of impatient wiggling while lecture or entertainment is in progress.

Tent Not Uncomfortable.

It is not as hot under the "big top" as one might think. The flaps are turned up and the June breezes have easy access. In addition, one forgets the heat during most of the performances, the body ignores any minor discomforts while the mind drinks in a lecture or finds relaxation in music or play.

It is worth while, this week-long entertainment which has come to the people of the community. The best talent in the country offers its knowledge, its wit and its humor for the benefit of local audiences. It is worth carrying a chair a long ways, or waving a fan most vigorously for hours just to profit by.

LONGEST SUSPENSION BRIDGE ACROSS DELEWARE.

A suspension bridge across the Delaware River, linking Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., has been approved by the joint Pennsylvania-New Jersey Commissions. The proposed bridge will surpass by 150 feet the longest suspension bridge in the world. The cost of the bridge and the approaches will be $28,810,000. Six roadways are provided for in the plans. In addition, there are to be four trolley lines and two ten-foot walks for passengers. The East Main River Tower will rise 280 feet above the Delaware River. The span will be 1,750 feet. The illustration shows the engineer's sketch of how the bridge will look after it is completed.

ATTENDS FATHER'S FUNERAL

William A. Burch, Formerly of This County, Dies At Home Near Wichita Falls June 17.

M. L. Burch returned yesterday from Wichita Falls where he attended the funeral of his father, William A. Burch, who died at his home near that place last Friday. Burial was in Dundee Cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Burch lived in Odell for five years and is well known in this county. He went to Wichita Falls to make his home with a daughter only a few years ago. He came to this county from Hamilton.

Paralysis caused the death of Mr. Burch who was 61 years old. He is survived by nine children: M. L. and Grady Burch, both of Vernon; Mrs. J. H. Rayborn of Wichita Falls; Miss Sue Burch of Texarkana; C. M. Burch of Goldthwaits; Will Burch of Oklahoma City; Walter Burch of Hill County; Chas. Burch of Moran and Mrs. T. H. Brown of Fort Worth.

Christians Defeat Methodists.

Four runs in the final inning of the game spelled defeat for the Methodist Sunday School baseball team yesterday afternoon after it had led the Christian aggregation for two successive innings. The game ended 6 to 4 in favor of the Christian team. Methodists made six errors which helped materially in costing the game, as Lovelace pitched excellent ball throughout the contest.

IT'S UP TO WILBARGER.

By a vote of 7 to 1 Wichita County declared Saturday in favor of changing $1,500,000 five per cent 40-year bonds into an equal amount of six per cent 30-year serial bonds to build permanent highways. The sale of these six per cent bonds has already been arranged.

Wichita's highway system will include the main road from the Clay county line to the line of Wilbarger county, a road from Wichita Falls to Red River, via Burk Burnett; and a road toward Seymour to the Baylor county line. State and Federal aid will make the total to be expended in Wichita County slightly more than $3,000,000.

The advantage of such a system of highways to Wichita County can not be overestimated. Wichita farmers can haul their produce to market in half the time required on dirt roads;
Furthermore, they can go to market wherever it suits their convenience—rain or shine. So, also, can their families go to Wichita Falls, Iowa Park,
Electra, or Burk Burnett at any time.
This means that practically every farmer in Wichita county is a citizen of one of the towns of the county—and he does not have any of the disadvantages of the towns.

While the value of such a system of highways can not be computed in dollars, it is not difficult to visualize something of their value in the saving of time to the farmer, in the making of farm life more attractive, and, as a result, their influence in attracting the most progressive farmers to Wichita county.

The State and Federal Governments offer to pay more than half the cost of constructing a permanent system
of highways in Wilbarger county.
How much longer will our people object to paying the other half?

BOOST YOUR TOWN!

Those who failed to hear the talk of Charles H. Plattenburg at the chautauqua last Friday night were denied a real privilege. Regardless of sex, creed, race, or age the lecture applied equally well and was all embracing in its scope and appeal.

Mr. Plattenburg talked on "The Town You Live In," and talked with a manner that betokened years of experience in studying the ailments of the average country town and the antidotes to remedy them. The chronic knocker, the mail order house patronizer, the restless citizen—all shared in the criticism of the man who believes that a town good enough to live in is good enough to stand by.

The arguments of the chautauqua lecturer were those which would be naturally employed by the average logically thinking business man of today. They set forth reasons why a community cannot thrive without the co-operation of all its citizens, why a critical spirit on the part of its residents will do more to turn aside the prospective newcomer than all the lack of utilities that may exist.

A message such as the one given by Mr. Plattenburg is a blessing to the average community. It stimulates a line of thought too frequently neglected by the general public, it places in a different light the proposition of loyalty and patriotism to the town one lives in.

The speaker stressed particularly the folly of patronizing mail order houses. From personal observations
he quoted examples of the inferior quality of goods often dispensed from these establishments. Bringing that phase of the subject of a more local basis, it will be remembered that when Sears Roebuck Co. was selling sugar
last winter at $16.30 per hundred pounds, Vernon grocers were selling the same product at $16. Similar discrepancies can be found in many other lines of goods.

The matter is well worth pondering over. It is not entirely one-sided in its scope—all the sacrifice will not have to be entailed by the general public. The merchant must be content with a fair and legitimate profit if he is to expect the constant loyalty of his patrons. Pride, patriotism, and cooperation from the citizens of a community will go further toward producing a city of worth while calibre than any number of other efforts combined.

INCREASING THE LIFE RATE.

Approximately 100,000 men, women and children die in America every twelve months from tuberculosis. It has been found that one of the most frequent sources of infection by the great white plague is from the milk of tuberculous cattle.

Viewed in this light the matter of a tuberculin test for our cows assumes an importance heretofore unthought of.
Men hesitate to spend $5, or even $1
for testing an animal now, because they haven't realized the danger of the disease to the cow, or horse, or hog.

But when we know that the milk
our children drink may contain deadly germs—then the payment of even $5
for a test is an infinitesimal amount.
Think of the money and the suffering
it may save some loved one who might otherwise become a victim of the great white plague.

The tuberculin test for our cattle is one of the effective methods devised for helping eliminate humanity's greatest scourge.

WHY NOT AN INHERITANCE TAX.

Among all the reasonable propositions advanced by Dr. Frank Dixon in his Chautauqua lecture Sunday night—and all of them seem reasonable
—for making more efficient our governmental machine, was that of an inheritance tax for paying our enormous national debt. It amounts to about twenty-five billion dollars.

A graduated inheritance tax would work a hardship on no one, it would not tend to stifle initiative as it is claimed that the income tax does, and it would unsettle industry as little as any other disposition of the inheritance.

Dr. Dixon says that from nine to ten billion dollars pass each year in the form of inheritance. So that it would not be difficult to subtract from this an amount ample to meet our needs, at least to a very large degree, without working a hardship on any one.

The exemption could easily be large enough to permit ample provision for any dependent on the deceased. Further than that, it seems most equitable that any accumulations should go to the general welfare.

He Is Looking

'Em Over Again

"Eight years of stomach and liver trouble reduced me to a walking skeleton. My skin was dried up and as yellow as a twenty-dollar gold piece.
I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctors' medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man and am looking 'em over again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will con-

HUSBAND SAID SHE "DOPED" HIM, WEDS HER AGAIN

Not doped with "sleeping chocolate drops" this time, but with his eyes open and his own free will, Edward E.
Ryan, twenty years old, of Chicago, is married again to Thelma Jesswein, sixteen years old. Last October Ryan brought suit for annulment of the marriage, telling the Court that, after a brief acquaintance with Miss Jesswein, she induced him to eat some chocolates. He said he fell asleep and awoke a married man. The marriage was annulled. They were recently married for the second time at Minneapolis.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL COMPLETE.

Establishment Of Miss Mary Barker Received First Surgical Case Saturday.

The first surgical case in the new hospital belonging to Miss Mary Barker, just south of the Central school was handled Saturday. The house, which is of one story and a half, contains about twelve rooms and is well equipped.

Miss Barker has been preparing the residence for use as a hospital for several months. She is planning to add still further equipment to it.

The nurse has had considerable experience in her vocation, serving with the army for three years. Two of these years were spent in France.

TO HAVE LOAN CLOSET.

Red Cross Will Have Shower In Order To Get Articles Essential For Needy Sick Persons.

A shower for the Red Cross Loan Closet will be held at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Swartwood. Everyone is invited to come and bring one or more of the following articles: sheets, pillow cases, night-gowns for men, women, and children, bath towels, face towels and wash cloths. A social hour will be made as enjoyable as possible for those who attend the shower and refreshments will be served.

The loan closet is being fitted out for the benefit of sick persons in needy circumstances and will be in charge of Miss Rose Eihmann, Red Cross nurse, who will see to the loaning and the returning of the articles.

The Free Milk and Ice Fund will also be started tomorrow afternoon, as money is needed immediately and it has been decided that it would not be advisable to wait for funds until proceeds are received from the rummage sale.

PRESS LAUDS YOUNG GOTCH.

Newspapers Pass Much Favorable Comment On Wrestler Who Appears Here July 4.

Newspaper clippings from various portions of the State credit Young Gotch, the middleweight wrestler, who will appear here July 4, as possessing much more than average ability. Gotch recently won decisions over Kid Thomas of St. Paul and Young Zyzbisko of Corsicana, and he is given considerable praise by the press.

Demon Bartell of Wichita, Kans., and Sailor Lewis have been two more recent victims of Gotch's wrestling prowess.

Gotch has declared that he will meet any Texas wrestler anywhere, stating that he particularly wants to meet Pet Brown, the noted Taylor grappler. He also has a match scheduled with Henry Irslinger. Young Gotch is known in Vernon, having been present on the occasion of wrestling matches in this city.

HOUSECLEANING IS NOT HARD IF THE PROGRAM IS ADOPTED

Housecleaning need not be the bugbear it has long been regarded in many households. If the work is carefully planned, if the kind of furnishings that are easy to keep clean are chosen and handled in the right way, and if provision is made for keeping all the dirt possible out of the house, there will be no need for the upheavals that result in discomfort to the entire household. The following are good rules by which to organize the housecleaning:

Keep dirt out of the house by cleaning the walks, steps, porches, and sills regularly and often, by screening windows and doors near the ground, and by insisting on having muddy shoes and coats cleaned, or left outside.

Lessen the number of dust-collecting places, such as unnecessary cupboards, grooved and curved woodwork, floors with cracks, rough-finished walls, elaborately carved and upholstered furniture, superfluous draperies, and bric-a-brac.

Remove dirt frequently and systematically. This keeps the house and furnishings in better condition, and makes the need of heavy cleaning less frequent.

Clean by taking the dirt away, not by scattering it, to settle again elsewhere.

Do heavy cleaning a little at a time to avoid the hard work and discomforts of the old-fashioned spring and fall housecleaning.

Have a supply of good cleaning tools such as your work calls for, and keep them in good order in a convenient place.

Use water and cleaning agents sparingly because otherwise they may spoil finishes and weaken glue, paste, or cement.

Watch for troublesome insects and animals, and take prompt measures to get rid of them if they appear.

Make all the family help by leaving things where they belong, and in good condition.

These rules are given by the United States Department of Agriculture in a new Farmers' Bulletin, No. 1180, Housecleaning Made Easier.

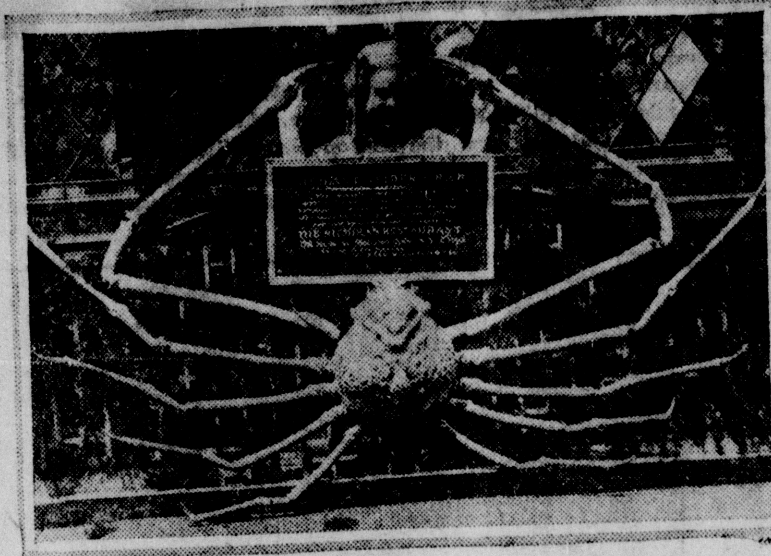

DO NOT INTERFERE WITH WIFE'S BUSINESS

An Ohio man dropped dead the other day while washing dishes in his kitchen. Today we have printed the following items which ought to serve as a warning to all men:

An Oklahoma man was totally paralyzed while sweeping a floor, an East Texas man had his eye knocked out while splitting stove wood, a West Texan cut his foot off while hoeing in a garden, and we lost part of our finger in a lawn mower. If men will insist on fooling with their wife's business after reading this list of warnings, they must assume all responsibility.—Exchange.

WHEN IT COMES TO CRABS, THIS ONE TAKES CAKE.

If you were to meet this Giant Spider Crab ("Gecarcinus lateralis") while in bathing it is very evident that your afternoon's pleasure would be over. This enormous crustacean, the largest crab ever caught, is estimated to be more than 500 years old. The front claws of the crab are each fifty-five inches long, which is longer than the entire length of six-year-old Rita Rogan, shown in the photograph. The monster is on exhibition at the Nicholas Restaurant, One Hundred and Seventy-eighth street and St. Nicholas avenue, New York City. The giant crab was caught in the Yellow Sea last winter.

Housework Is a Burden.

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Vernon women. Read what Mrs. W. H. Thomasson, 610 Lexington St., Vernon, says: "My back and kidneys were in bad condition. My back ached and throbbled day and night right through the small part and through my hips. There was a dull, bearing down pain in my back and this hurt me so I could hardly do my housework. When I stooped over to pick up anything I became so dizzy I would almost fall on the floor. My head ached all the time and my kidneys were very irregular in action. I tried different remedies but received no benefit. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and one box of this medicine cured me entirely."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Thomasson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BELIEVES LOYALTY IS ESSENTIAL TO PROGRESS OF TOWN

Charles H. Plattenburg, Chautauqua Lecturer, Declares Every Citizen Owes a Debt To His Community—Says Every Advancement of Town Entails Sacrifice.

The address of Charles H. Plattenburg Friday night was one which vitally concerned everyone in Vernon. It dealt with the community in all of its phases, the need for co-operation on the part of citizens, the necessity for boosting the town and its attributes, and the essential part loyalty plays in the advancement of a community.

Mr. Plattenburg, who is a native Missourian but a resident now of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, possesses a peculiar method of address that grips the attention of the audience from first to last. His message is given in a forceful, convincing manner that drives home every point he wishes to make.

Loyalty Means Faith.

Loyalty, said the lecturer, means full of faith. There is often a woeful lack of patriotism in a town the size of Vernon, and this is one reason why there is such a stream of population emigrating from the smaller communities to the large cities.

California residents were used by Mr. Plattenburg as examples of live, energetic boosters. In that State, he said, every bush is a tree, and every town possesses some one thing that surpasses anything of its kind in the world.

Should Boost Town.

The only way to make one's home town prosper, said the speaker, is to boost it at every opportunity. Every individual owes a debt to his community and still it is the last one he wants to pay. He must realize, however, that it is not charity but a real indebtedness he owes. Were it not for the town he lives in, few of his possessions would have any considerable monetary value.

Mr. Plattenburg dwelt upon the huge size of Texas, and remarked that were its population as dense as that of Belgium, it would contain 300,000,000 people. Lack of co-operation and boosting, however, has made the State drag in the matter of adding to its population, and New York City in ten years added 100,000 more people to its census than did the entire State of Texas.

Scores Mail Order Houses.

Patronage of mail order houses was blamed especially by the lecturer for the decline of many smaller towns. He declared that dealings with these establishments by citizens are the means of throttling the life out of the very community in which they live. The best platform upon which to build a thriving town is one that stipulates that business men shall be satisfied with a fair and legitimate profit, and people of the town shall be loyal to the merchants. Mr. Plattenburg mentioned an Iowa town that is now nearly defunct because its citizens commenced an active patronage of mail order houses several years ago. Eight thousand towns in the United States suffered the same way.

Quality considered, said the lecturer, it is probable that one can buy as cheaply in Vernon as anywhere in the world. Mr. Plattenburg pointed out the inferior quality of many mail order goods, and the cost entailed in shipping them. There is just one way to build up a town, he said, and that is to spend money in it.

All leaders do not come from the cities, Mr. Plattenburg informed his audience. When the Great War occurred, five of the most prominent figures in settling difficulties were men who started life as country boys, Wilson, Pershing, Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Marshall Foch—all these spent their boyhoods in small communities.

Population Is Centered.

One-tenth of the people in the United States live in New York, Chicago, or Philadelphia, said the lecturer. This is an unhealthy condition which can only be remedied by making the small towns fit places to live in.

Everything worth while costs something, the audience was told. Building, progress, and advancement of the community's interests can only be accomplished through sacrifice. The object of each citizen should be to help make his environment so attractive that persons would rather live in Vernon than any place else.

Mr. Plattenburg's remarks were not delivered with any degree of caustic criticism. He tempered his chiding with such charm of personality as well as complimentary remarks that they were insured of ready reception by everyone present.

CHAUTAUQUA MANAGER AT FREDERICK LIVED IN VERNON

Rev. Gordon Lang, who is in Frederick, Okla. as manager of a Redpath-Horner chautauqua, will be remembered by many local residents as a former citizen of Vernon. Dr. Lang was living in this city and was a member of the Presbyterian church here when he entered the ministry.

The minister is quoted by The Frederick Leader as remarking about that town, "There were more rattlesnakes and gophers than human population in this part of Oklahoma when I came to Frederick as the first pastor of the Presbyterian church back in 1901." From Frederick Mr. Lang went to New York to attend a theological school.

No. 381

An Ordinance Regulating the Parking of Trucks, Wagons, Floats, Drays and Other Vehicles Used in the Business of Hauling and Transporting Freight for the Public for Hire as Common Carriers and Providing Adequate Penalties for the Violation Thereof.

Be It Ordained by the City (Commission) of Vernon, Texas:

Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person driving, using or operating any Truck, Wagon, Float, Dray or other vehicle within the City of Vernon engaged in the business of hauling or transporting freight for the public for hire to park same at any point on Main street between the North line of Marshall Street and the South line of Fannin street, or at any point on West line of Fannin street and the East line of Fannin street, or at any point on Texas street between the East line of Fannin street and the West line of Fannin street, or at any point on Texas street between the East line of Fannin street and the West line of Fannin street, provided this ordinance shall not be construed so as to prohibit any such vehicle from being stopped or parked for a reasonable time while actually loading or unloading freight.

Sec. 2. Any person who shall violate any provision of the foregoing section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 3. That this ordinance shall take effect from and after its approval and publication.

Witness my hand and seal of said City, this 15th day of June, A. D. 1921.

Attest: S. H. HALL, HARRY MASON, City Secretary

IS NEW COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

John G. Emery, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who served as the National Vice-Commander of the American Legion, has succeeded the late Colonel Fred Balbraith as the Commander. Mr. Emery, who is in the real estate business in Grand Rapids, entered the army as a captain of infantry and went overseas November 27, 1917. He was discharged March 31, 1919. He is a member of the State Executive Committee of the American Legion and of the Military Order of Foreign Wars. He served on the special committee of the legion that drew up the four-fold plan of adjusted compensation that later were embodied in the Fordney bill. He is a member of the Carl A. Johnson Post, No. 3, of the Department of Michigan.

TEACHING THE BLIND TO TYPEWRITE.

The German Government is instructing many soldiers blinded during the war in the use of the typewriter, thus enabling them to earn their livings. Several machines for the use of the blind have recently been invented, but the blind men are also taught to operate a regular typewriter through the touch system. The above photo shows a blind war veteran operating a typewriter, receiving dictation from a disaphone.

TRANSPORTATION COSTS WILL COMPEL FARMERS TO GROW MORE FOOD AT HOME

Increased transportation costs, and lessened returns from the products of American farmers to grow more of their own food, in the opinion of officials of the United States Department of Agriculture. These transportation costs will prevent shipments of the more moderate priced fresh fruits and vegetables which are purchased by the growers of single crops or specialties for use in their own homes, and the lack of a market for special products in turn will be a blow to the buying capacity of the growers of those specialties.

"The American farmer is not going to be able this year to pay freight on water," said a department official. "Water makes up a large part of fresh fruits and vegetables. The answer is that he must grow his own table food. He must also study the possibilities of substitution. This applies to vegetables, fruits, poultry, eggs, and dairy products which must be transferred from commercial channels to home consumption if they are to come within the reach of the average farmer's family."

"Specialized farming has created conditions of which comparatively few persons are aware. The grain farmer in many instances buys even his potatoes and green vegetables; the fruit farmer buys his dairy products; and even the man who raised milk for creamery, condenser, or cheese factory is likely to send his cream or milk away, feed the skim milk or whey to the calves, and not make his own butter. This year, just as far as possible for him to alter his system in a single season, the department officials advise that he get back to the old plan which was aptly described as 'living at home.' This means not so much remaining on the farm as it does deriving every practicable product for consumption from the farm."

"The average American farmer knows how to raise other crops than those on which he specializes, but it has seemed good business, or at least expedient, to devote his energies to very few or even a single cash crop and buy his necessities, just as is done in other specialized industries. The grain farmer is perfectly capable of raising his own potatoes, his green garden stuff and melons, tomatoes and other garden fruits, to take the place of orchard fruits which in many parts of the country have been killed by the late freezes. If the farmer has a piece of really good garden ground he can add materially to the variety and wholesomeness of the farm food supply with scarcely any expenditure except for seeds, and seeds, fortunately, are lower this spring than for several years."

"The same may be said of poultry. With increased freight rates this year the general farmers principal meat supply will come out of his poultry yard, either in eggs or in table chickens and other fowls. Poultry is the quickest meat supply to produce, and the farmer will do well to build up a small flock as rapidly as possible. The increased freight rates on butter and eggs, together with the farm money shortage due to the disappointing returns from last year's crops, will make it advisable for many farmers' wives to return to butter-making arts which they learned as girls from their mothers, and which have been largely discontinued as farmers became specialists."

"Fruit is likely to be scarce in large and important farming regions, but its place can largely be taken by vegetable products. Two things are clear. In the first place, the average farmer, as it stands now, can not afford to pay freight rates on the water which makes up the larger part of both fresh and canned vegetables and fruits. In the second place, under existing conditions, he can raise those things cheaper himself than he can buy them, and he can make many substitutes out of the garden and poultry yard if he sets out to do it. He has not the money. It is not good business to run in debt except for essentials of production."

The Department of Agriculture will be glad to give information and advice to those who wish to diversify their homegrown food supply.

PROTESTS AGAINST ARTICLE CONCERNING LEAGUE WORKERS

A protest concerning an article which appeared in a recent issue of The Record as an interview with Chamber of Commerce officials concerning Anti-Saloon League solicitors working in Vernon last July has come to the editor's desk. The communication is from Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, who declares that the workers in this community were bona fide representatives from the League, and not imposters as represented by the chamber.

Mr. Webb, who goes into a mass of detail concerning the activities of the representatives here and the purposes of the League, declares that the amount gained here was but $354.50. He denies the implication that the Anti-Saloon League is not needed by the Government, and quotes a number of testimonials to prove his point.

THE U. S. USCO TREAD

Here is the U. S. Usco Tread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S. Fabric line, the Usco has earned a reputation for quality and dependable economy which is not exceeded by any tire in its class.

Which one of your neighbors gets the best mileage out of his tires?

EVERY once in a while you hear a motorist say as he kicks a rear tire with an admiring foot, "there's a lucky tire!" Give him a chance and he'll tell you all about it. And then you'll find that what he calls "luck" is simply his first experience with a quality standard tire.

It all comes to this—buy a U. S. Tire anywhere in this country and you get definite, predictable value for your money no matter what weight car you drive.

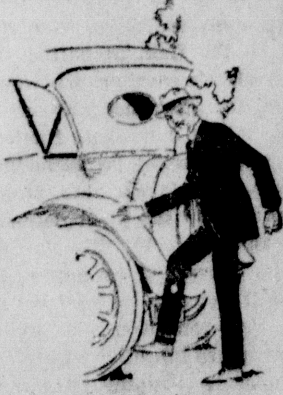

The man who has been guessing his way through "overstocks," "discontinued lines," "job lots" and the like, will find it refreshing to talk with the local U. S. Tire dealer who is concentrating on a full, completely sized line of U. S. Tires.

For the first time he will hear some straight quality tire facts—and get the difference between chance and certainty in tire buying.

The U. S. Tires he sees in stock are fresh, live tires. They come direct to the dealer from his neighboring Factory Branch.

SAYS WAR LEFT US MANY TREMENDOUS PROBLEMS TO SOLVE

Frank Dixon, Chautauqua Lecturer of National Fame, Points Out Needed Reforms in Government—Believes Powers of President Should Be Limited—Wants Compulsory Ballot.

The War has left us tremendous problems which we have taken but few steps to solve, was the message given to those in attendance at the chautauqua Sunday night by Frank Dixon, American lecturer of national fame. Mr. Dixon talked on "The Indispensable Tools of Democracy" and his address went to the heart of existing ills in our Government today and suggested needed reforms. The talk was calculated to spur the listeners on to thought and action concerning timely questions that have not been decided and which few have the courage to discuss.

The blame for high prices was placed mainly on the general public by the noted lecturer. People have insisted on paying extravagant charges for articles, he said, and the merchants have only taken advantage of this tendency.

Take Limits Off Production.
The only way in which to bring business back to a sound basis, the audience was told, is to take the limits off of production. The manufacturer who curtailed production and the worker who insists on loafing on the job must be eliminated.

We must replace the capital destroyed by the great War through taxation, Mr. Dixon declared. The financial condition of the world today makes this a big problem. The manhood of the country has made its contribution toward the nation's welfare, he said, but the wealth has not.

The graduated inheritance tax was advocated by the chautauqua speaker as the only method of taxation that would not work a hardship on anyone. In this way, he said, the national debt could be paid within ten or fifteen years.

Must Legalize Unions.

The question of daily wages was also dealt with in the lecture. Organized labor, the audience was told, is the most powerful and dangerous force in the world today. At present it is outside the law, it has no more responsibility than has a child or an idiot, simply because the law will not permit it to. Governments deal with this force as though it were a foreign enemy.

The reform needed is to require labor unions to come within the law, to be responsible. Mr. Dixon stated. Then they can incorporate and make contracts that are binding.

Concerning peace, the speaker said the entire nation desires this condition and so is easily deceived concerning the danger it may be in from foreign foes. This danger was likened to disease which none of us want but which we are likely to contract. The in fightfulness in comparison to the conflict which will come. Combat in past War, he said, was only a riftle the air and under the water will feature the next struggle, he said, and great cities like New York can be wiped off the map in a few hours.

Disarmament No Cure.

We cannot prevent this from happening by disarming, said Mr. Dixon. We must agree to universal conscription of every man, woman, and child as well as our entire wealth for the next conflict. There must be instant military discipline everywhere. It will be necessary to suspend private debts and devote every dollar to the Government. Persons should draw Government rations and wages. It would be against the law to make money out of the nation's peril, and no more than fair that those at home should be subject to the same laws of discipline as those who risk their lives on the field of battle. In this way, said the speaker, we would pick up our life after the war exactly where we laid it down, and furthermore, the nation would be invincible.

In discussing the farmer, Mr. Dixon declared that he is the most defenceless person in the world. The farmer is the burden bearer of the nation, he said, and will remain so as long as he permits this condition to exist. When his barns are bursting with plenty he is nearer bankruptcy than ever before. The proposition is up to the farmer to organize his forces in order to market his produce more effectively. The place of the ultra-conservatives and the radicals in this country were discussed by the lecturer. He declared that neither have any position with the American people.

Local Governments Strong.

Paralysis of our Government through party differences was also dealt with in the lecture. The audience was shown what this meant in the past War, and how the machinery of administration has been tied up during many periods. The secret of this nation's strength, he said, lies in the efficiency of its local governments. When there are questions to decide,

the American people call on themselves and no others.

Mr. Dixon divided the Constitution into two parts, principles and individual liberties. The principles are expressed in the preamble, he said, and are the expressions of a great free government. However, he pointed out, there must be the efficient machinery of government to work out these principles. The results achieved are no better than the tools used for achieving them. He discredited the charge that we are disloyal to our forefathers when we attempt to better the machinery they invented for carrying on the affairs of government. They could not foresee the future, and could make no provisions for caring for it.

The method of amending the Constitution was also attacked by the speaker. The two-thirds and three-fourths rule was criticised for not being democratic. A simple majority is the only true method, Mr. Dixon stated, and this should be through the means of a national referendum. The people should be permitted to decide on these questions, and not their various state legislatures.

In commenting upon the ballot, Mr. Dixon declared that there should be compulsory voting. The women of the nation, especially, are neglecting this important function after striving so long and earnestly to win the privilege.

Should Have Direct Vote.

The president of the United States should be chosen by direct vote, said the speaker. Under the present system the man in a small state has little chance of winning, and he must furthermore be a resident of a doubtful state to be in the running. Ohio was quoted as an example of this condition.

Four months between election and inauguration of the President is obviously unnecessary, the speaker said. Ten days is entirely sufficient. This length of time was left by the framers of the Constitution because of the time consumed in getting election returns in the early days.

The powers and prerogatives allowed our President are entirely out of proportion to those permitted other officials of the Government, said Mr. Dixon. He possesses more influence than does any monarch in the world, and has unlimited power in declaring war and peace.

Powers Have Grown.

These duties were assigned the nation's executive by the framers of the Constitution because George Washington was first president and carried the trust of all his countrymen. Today, however, those same powers have assumed more vast proportions. If the President refuses to draw up a treaty today, said the speaker, the Senate is powerless to force him to do so.

The veto power of the president was also attacked. Congress scarcely ever attempts to pass laws without first consulting the will of the President, he said. The principle of allowing equal authority to the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government is an impossibility, said Mr. Dixon. The power will gravitate to one or the other, and in this country it is to the executive.

This veto power should be denied the President, and then a cabinet formed within Congress. This is necessary to prevent inevitable conflict between cabinet members and Congress under the present system.

Must Adapt Machinery.

Our forefathers were concerned more with the principles of government and not the machinery, said the speaker. It depends upon us to adapt this machinery to the ends in view. We must have the means of instantaneously changing our administration if it becomes necessary. The action of England and France in this respect during the World War was quoted as an example.

Mr. Dixon ended his talk by declaring that he is not attempting to find fault with our Government, that he is not criticising its administration, but that he is merely attempting to point out some reforms that appear to be pressing needs today, and which will serve to further the interests of the country he loves.

TEXANS TO VOTE ON 5 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS SOON

Voters Will Determine July 23 Whether They Wish to Abolish State Penitentiary Commission—Increase of Salary Paid Various State Officials Also Proposed.

Texas voters will determine July 23 the fate of five constitutional amendments which the last legislature agreed to submit, one of which will abolish the State Penitentiary Commission of three members if it is adopted.

Adoption of this amendment might cause a reduction in state taxes, according to Representative Wallace Malone of Tarrant County. Should the amendment be approved it would be up to the next legislature to decide on some form of management for the penitentiary system. Malone believes that the best way to bring about an improvement in the penitentiary is to work up a new system.

This penitentiary system amendment will read on the official ballot: "For the amendment of Article 17, Section 58, of the Constitution abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners."

Adoption of the five amendments would permit an increase in the salaries paid the governor, attorney general, treasurer, comptroller and land commissioner. Salaries for these officers were fixed thirty-five years ago. Persons advocating adoption of this amendment point out that living expenses in that day and the responsibility of the amendment would not automatically bring the increase in salaries. It would permit the legislature to raise the salaries as follows:

What Pay Might Be.

Governor, from $4,000 to any figure not to exceed $8,000; Attorney General from $4,000 to any figure not to exceed $7,500; Treasurer, Comptroller and Land Commissioner, from $2,500 to any amount not to exceed $5,000, and Secretary of State from $2,000 to any amount not to exceed $5,000. "The proposed increase in salaries of these officers is not large enough materially to increase taxes," Representative Malone said. "The pro rata of a person who pays on $1,000 worth of property would be only one-half of one cent, or five cents on every $10,000 worth of property."

Here is the way the amendment pertaining to these salary increases will read on the ballot: "For amendment to Sections 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the compensation of executive officers."

With the adoption of another amendment, the pensions being paid to Confederate soldiers and their widows would be increased. This amendment would require an increase of 2 cents, from five cents now being paid to 7 cents on the $100 valuation.

May Soon Be Stopped.

Advocates of the increased pension plan say that within a few years the Confederate soldiers and their widows now aged, will have died and that this pension tax then will not be collected.

On the ballot the pension amendment will read: "For the amendment of Section 51, Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the legislature to grant aid of Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been residents of this state since January 1, 1910."

One of the other amendments follows: "For amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to mileage and per diem of members of the legislature of the State of Texas."

This amendment propose to reduce the mileage of traveling expenses of legislators to one-half of what it now is. It also proposed to pay legislators not to exceed $10 per day for a session of 120 days and $5 a day thereafter. If the amendment was adopted the legislature could pay less than this amount. The present pay is $5 a day for sixty days and $2 a day thereafter.

Those who are for the adoption of this amendment declare that it really would be a saving to taxpayers. They point out that the usual ninety-day session is not long enough to complete the business of the legislature, and that, if the session is prolonged the legislators cannot pay their expenses with $2 a day; that one longer session with sufficient pay would prevent the duplication of work required at

WOULD HAVE LOCAL CATTLE INSPECTED FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Danger of Human Infection Said To Be Real Menace—Germs Are Transmitted To Child and May Not Manifest Selves Until Maturity Is Reached—Owners Are Compensated.

A move is on foot among local advocates of disease prevention to cause the inspection for tuberculosis of all cows in this county supplying milk for consumption in this city. The need for a measure regulating this project is pointed out by those behind the movement who insist that one of the greatest sources of the dread disease among humans is to be found in the milk of affected cows.

County and city attorneys both favor such an inspection, but it is doubtful whether there is any effective ordinance covering this activity. A city ordinance was passed in 1911 requiring the inspection of dairy herds but has not been strictly enforced. There is no city measure covering the inspection of individual cows.

A regulation made by the State Sanitary Commission, however, covers the examination of separate cows and this may be invoked in the case of Wilbarger county.

Menace Is Great.

The need for such an inspection is strongly advocated by the county agent who declared that the menace from affected cows is much greater than generally supposed. He pointed out that hogs in the same lot or field with the cows can easily become affected and thus the disease is transmitted in more than one way.

"One of the chief dangers," said Dr. E. B. Jones, local veterinarian, "is the infection of infants from the impure milk of cows. Tuberculosis germs often find their way into the system in this manner, and then do not manifest themselves until the child becomes an adult."

According to an account carried in a Fort Worth paper, an especial emergency appropriation is now available to indemnify stockmen for cattle reacting to the tuberculosis tests and slaughtered in the tubercular eradication work. This emergency appropriation makes it possible to slaughter immediately cattle reactors that were being held by the owners until July when the regular appropriation becomes available. The emergency appropriations will also result in payment to owners who have already waived their indemnity rights.

Slaughtered Under Supervision.

In the work of tubercular eradication now being conducted in the State, cattle found infected are shipped to stockyard centers and slaughtered under supervision of Government experts. One-third of the difference between the price brought by the salvage and the value of the cattle is refunded the owner by the Government, and one-third by the State. The indemnity in no case is to exceed $50 for a registered animal and $25 for a grade animal.

short sessions and would not be so expensive.

Three Voting Changes.

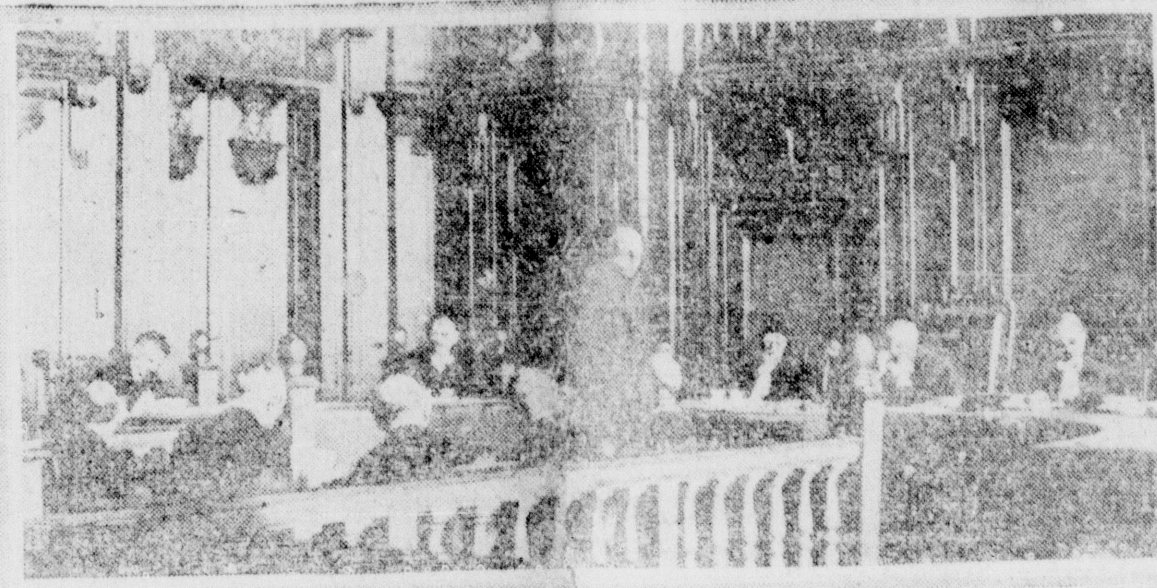

Three changes in voting laws would result with the adoption of the amendment that will appear on the ballot as follows: "For the amendment of Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified voters in this state and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefor, and permitting the legislature to authorize absentee voting."

Under the present constitution, for eigners are authorized to vote as soon as they declare their intention to become citizens. If this proposed amendment should be adopted, they must complete naturalization before they would be authorized to vote.

The second section of the same amendment applies to towns of more than 10,000 people. With present laws in effect, persons in such towns must get their poll tax receipts in person. If the amendment is adopted either husband or wife could pay the poll tax of the two and get the receipts for both payments.

Adoption of the amendment would permit the legislature to pass legislation whereby the absentee voting, as now in effect, would apply to general elections as well as primaries.

JUNIORS SHOWED MUCH ENTHUSIASM

YOUNG CHAMBER LEADERS ENDORSED COOPERATION FROM ALL.

"I have never seen as much enthusiasm manifested by young men as during the convention in Dallas last week of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce," said Everett Hancy, local chairman, who returned from that city Saturday. The second annual convention of the Junior chamber was held in the city hall at Dallas, and approximately 300 delegates were in attendance. These came from twenty-one different cities over the country.

One of the principal points brought out at the convention, Mr. Hancy said, is what co-operation among even competitive organizations is capable of accomplishing. Young men in their twenties addressed the gathering on what has been accomplished thus far in their respective towns.

Censure Ambassador Harvey.

A resolution was passed by the convention censuring the recent speech of Ambassador Harvey in England when he declared that the "United States entered the past war to save its skin." A copy of this measure was forwarded to President Harding. Ambassador Harvey, and another furnished the press of the country.

Two of the principal speeches of the convention were given by Senator Cullen F. Thomas of Texas who talked on "Americanization."

Harvey On Committee.

The convention at Dallas lasted through Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week. Vernon was recommended for having enough interest to send a delegate to the meeting. Mr. Hancy said, and the chairman expressed the hope that in the future more communities of this size would send delegates. Mr. Hancy occupied a place on one of the resolution committees while in attendance at the convention.

George O. Wilson, Dallas lawyer, was the unanimous choice for president for the coming year. Headquarters for the organization will remain at St. Louis, Mo., it was decided.

WILL DEMONSTRATE TRACTORS.

Ford Representatives Will Exhibit Merits Of Fordson Tractor At Fairgrounds.

A Fordson tractor demonstration lasting from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon will be offered by the Nagler Bros. Motor Co., Monday, June 27, at the fairgrounds. A representative from the Ford Motor Co. will be on hand as well as one from Morris Brothers of Dallas, who deal in farm machinery.

The exhibition will include a demonstration of the operation and efficiency of tractors, and the method of using farm machinery with these machines. The demonstrations will be conducted in front of the grandstand.

The local firm plans to serve a free lunch to all who are in attendance Monday.

Miss Smith Undergoes Operation.

Miss Theresa Smith, daughter of Dr. Smith of Wichita Falls and well known in Vernon, underwent an operation for appendicitis in Wichita Falls yesterday. Miss Smith is a cousin of Mrs. Frank Merriam of this city, and a niece of N. G. Smith and Mrs. Mary Gibbs. Her condition is reported as satisfactory.

DR. NG. POON CHEW TALKS TO ROTARY

CHAUTAUQUA LECTURER TELLS OF IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE IN CHINA.

"Liquor produces a madman, while opium produces a mental and physical imbecile," Dr. Ng Poon Chew told the Rotarians at lunch today. Dr. Chew is editor of the largest Chinese language paper in the United, and is here to speak at the Chautauqua tonight.

"When a man goes home drunk he kicks his wife," Dr. Chew said; "and when he goes home full of opium, his wife kicks him. That is, you will agree, a most striking difference."

Dr. Chew told how the opium habit was fastened on China, because the British Indian government found the trade necessary to provide its income. China made the utmost endeavor to prevent the opium trade, and finally British merchants incurred guns which would fire on the Chinese officers. Then the Chinese government threw all the opium dealers in Hong Kong into prison and confiscated their drug.

England Forced Opium Trade.

England immediately made war upon China for interfering with trade of English subjects in the Orient, and forced the government to recognize the opium trade. Finally, in 1907 England and China ratified a treaty which provided for doing away with the opium trade at the rate of 10 per cent a year.

"You will not see a Chinaman wearing a queue now," Dr. Chew told the Rotarians, and explained that the queue originated when the Manchus conquered China, the conquerors requiring every one to wear a queue as a sign of submission. Dr. Chew cut off his queue shortly after he came to America about thirty years ago.

"There are more than 2,600 Chinese students in American colleges," the speaker said. "China looks to America as her example, because America is the only land which has not tried to gobble up some of China, and which prevented the partition of the empire. It is the prayer of my people that America may continue to be, not only the land of the free, but the hope of oppressed people all over the world."

Streets Being Widened.

Dr. Chew referred to improvements going on in China. The streets in Canton, he said, were only about 7 feet wide. When it was decided necessary to widen them, everybody was notified to come in and record again their property, fixing its value for taxable purposes.

The values given were very low, of course, Dr. Chew said, because the people wanted to avoid paying taxes. Then the government announced that land sufficient to cut a street 150 feet wide running each way through the city was to be condemned and paid for at the value fixed on it by its owners.

As a result, the cost was relatively small. Steel is being laid now for a street railway in Canton, under direction of a former student from China in Columbia University, New York City.

Dr. Chew says all Chinese students are required to study English, and all modern sciences are in English.

Negress Attempts Suicide.

Zella Allen, negress, narrowly escaped death about 9:30 last night when she consumed a quantity of carbolic acid in an alleged attempt to commit suicide. She was in a critical condition last night.

GOLF PLAYERS REACH SEMI-FINALS

FINALS IN HILL CREST TOURNAMENT MAY BE PLAYED ON THURSDAY.

Part of the semi-finals in the Hill Crest golf tournament will be played off today when W. N. Stokes meets Jed Morrow for eighteen holes. The winner of the match will meet either E. C. Christian or Hub Colley who will probably play tomorrow. The finals will in all probability be played Thursday.

There have been numbers of upsets in the calculations of local golfers concerning the winners of various matches. Several of these eliminated who were expected to contest in the finals have been the recipients of large baskets of flowers from sympathetic women folk of the community.

Following are results in the third round of play. Jed Morrow defeated R. H. Coffey 56 to 65; W. N. Stokes defeated G. C. Morris 58 to 61; Hub Colley defeated Emmet Rhoads 61 to 68; and E. C. Christian defeated R. B. Gibson 59 to 62.

The matches in both semi-finals and finals will be played over eighteen holes.

TO HAVE RUMMAGE SALE.

Local Red Cross Will Raise Money In This Manner For Free Milk And Ice For Poor of Town.

To raise money for a milk and ice fund for the benefit of the poor of this community the local chapter of the American Red Cross will hold a rummage sale in about two weeks. The exact date has not yet been set, and the place has not been arranged, but it is requested by the committee in charge that all those who have old clothes which they will donate for the sale gather them together and be ready to deliver them as soon as the place is announced. If any one wishes to make a donation before that announcement is made, bundles may be left at the house of Mrs. J. N. Johnson.

Any sort of wearing apparel will be acceptable for the rummage sale, according to Mrs. B. A. Williams, a member of the committee, provided the clothes are wearable and clean.

At the present time there is no charity milk and ice fund in Vernon and now that hot weather has set in and babies of poor families are suffering as a result, it is thought necessary to maintain one. The co-operation of every one is desired in raising money by means of the rummage sale.

MISS MARGARET THIEME MARRIES R. G. YARBROUGH

R. G. Yarbrough of this county and Miss Margaret Thieme of Vernon were married Saturday afternoon at the residence of S. T. Roeder, about seven miles south of town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Rodgers. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Thieme, and has many friends locally. The young couple will make their home on Mr. Yarbrough's farm.

Were Married at Tolbert.

Miss Lena Marlow of Vernon and Ephe Swetnam of Fargo were married at Tolbert Saturday evening by Rev. E. V. Pooley of that community. The bride, who is an attractive and accomplished young lady, formerly lived at Fargo. Mr. Swetnam is a farmer.

PLANS MADE TO BRING CHAUTAUQUA HERE NEXT YEAR

Committee Will Circulate Petition For Names Of At Least Thirty Responsible Guarantors—Manager Enthusiastically Commends Local Audiences For Spirit Manifested.

Definite plans for bringing the Redpath-Horner Chautauqua Company to Vernon next season were made this morning at a meeting of a group of business men in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. A petition will be taken around today for the signatures of at least thirty responsible guarantors and the project is in charge of J. H. Pendleton and W. N. Stokes.

J. E. Nye, manager of the local chautauqua, offered the entertainment for next year at $100 less than was the cost this season. Prospects last week-end indicated that this amount would not be raised, but strenuous efforts on the part of the committee resulted in a successful campaign for the funds and nearly $200 additional.

The petition for this year contained the names of more than 100 signers, many of whom have since left town. It was circulated indiscriminately among townspeople, and as a result the backing of a great part of these was lacking when individuals were counted at the opening of this season.

"Vernon is without a doubt one of the finest towns on our circuit," J. E. Nye remarked enthusiastically this morning. "All of the talent that has been here is hearty in commendation of the applause and response they receive from the audiences. It has been a splendid showing, and we are very well pleased."

Concerning the program that will be offered next year, Mr. Nye offered the assurance that it would be the best that money could buy. He stated that Mr. Horner spares no efforts or money in obtaining the finest that can be secured.

Is Well Received.

Chautauqua programs in Vernon this year have been received, on the whole, in better fashion perhaps than any preceding ones. From the first day, which opened with Vierra's Hawaiians until the curtain closed on "Broadway Jones" last night, those present have lent rapt attention to proceedings and applauded heartily.

Vierra's Hawaiians were well above the average of such musical performers, and the members of the troupe possessed excellent voices as well as being masters of steel guitar, ukulele, and other island instruments.

The Musical Grenadiers offered a pleasing program Saturday, and Henry A. Adrian charmed the audience in the evening with a graphic account of the wonders performed by Luther Burbank.

The Agnes Knoffleckova Company Sunday proved a worth while number for a day free in admission to the audience. Frank Dixon, noted lecturer, touched on the life existing in our government in his address in the evening.

Broadway Jones Excellent.

Dr. J. O. Robinson talked Monday afternoon on "The Lost Legacy." His talk was of the deep spiritual and inspirational type, and was immensely enjoyed. In the evening the attraction was "Broadway Jones," the great Colman success. The play was most capably presented throughout, and the audience showed its appreciation continually with frequent rounds of applause.

Today the Glen Well Company and Mrs. Selivanova will entertain in the afternoon, and Dr. Ng Poon Chew, the noted Chinese lecturer, and the Glen Wells Company will present a program this evening.

Federation Postponed.

The regular meeting of the County Federation which was to have been held tomorrow afternoon has been postponed until June 29 on account of the Chautauques.

Open House At Hill Crest.

Hill Crest Country Club members will enjoy open house in their new home each Friday evening henceforth, according to an announcement of the house committee. There will be informal dancing at these occasions.

AGNES GELHAUSEN LOSES LIFE IN SWIMMING TRAGEDY

A tragedy resulting in the death of Miss Agnes Gelhausen and a narrow escape from a similar fate on the part of her companions occurred last evening at Condon's pool, about two miles west of town. Miss Gelhausen drowned after a boat, which was being towed as a raft by a party of swimmers, overturned in about six and one-half feet of water. The snafu on the part of eyewitnesses to the accident is that the young lady was struck on the head by the edge of the boat and was stunned as her head bears a heavy bruise evidently made in this manner.

The tragedy took place after a moonlight picnic party of seven young people, Misses Gertrude and Agnes Gelhausen, Esther Teinert, and Agnes Lucke of Wichita Falls, and Messrs. Arthur Hingst, Walter Teinert, and Hugo Gelhausen. Teinert and Gelhausen are brothers of the girls in the party.

Decided On Swim.

The young people had been playing tennis late in the afternoon and then decided on a picnic supper at Condon Springs. The affair was arranged in honor of Miss Agnes Lucke of Wichita Falls who is visiting Miss Teinert. After the supper, a boat ride was suggested and all participated in rowing about on the pool, which is small and comparatively shallow.

Tiring of this sport, one of the party urged a swim and the suggestion was immediately taken up. After renting suits at the bath house, the young people splashed about in the water, hanging on to the sides of a boat which they permitted to drift out past a wire indicating a dead line for those who could not swim.

Boat Filled With Water.

Climbing in and out of the boat and splashing of water soon filled the craft nearly to the sinking point, and it was then that it turned over, supposedly striking Miss Agnes Gelhausen on the head. None of the party was a good swimmer, and in the confusion that resulted the drowned girl was forgotten. The young men made desperate efforts to bring their companions to shore which was only about fifteen feet distant.

H. A. Estes, in charge of the lake and store for Mr. Condon, brought Miss Gertrude Gelhausen to safety and returned for Miss Teinert, saving her after she had apparently sunk for the last time. Estes jumped into the water fully clothed and rescued the girls only after tremendous difficulty. Hingst, Gelhausen, and Teinert finally made their way to shore.

Under Water 20 Minutes.

It is thought that Miss Agnes Gelhausen remained under the water practically twenty minutes, and her body was finally brought to the surface by Aubrey Foster who had been swimming nearby in the Hill Crest lake. Foster dove for the girl and struck her body on the first attempt. Aid was immediately summoned, and four physicians worked over the lifeless form until after midnight.

Miss Teinert was in a critical condition after being resuscitated, and regained consciousness only after hard work on the part of the physicians. She is somewhat improved today but still ill from her experience. Miss Gertrude Gelhausen was also badly strangled, but recovered soon after the accident.

Miss Agnes Gelhausen was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gelhausen living at 203 South Fannin St. Mr. Gelhausen is proprietor of the Vernon Ice Cream Co.

Native Of Vernon.

The young lady was 22 years old and was born January 23, 1899. She was born and reared in Vernon and possessed a host of friends among local townspeople. After attending local schools, she studied piano and violin under Professor Goetze and became an accomplished musician. She has played before Vernon people many times and was recognized as being most capable.

Miss Gelhausen taught school two years in Tolbert, and planned to teach the past year at Elliott but was pre-

Today—Dorothy Dalton in "A Romantic Adventuress."

Miss Dalton has the role of Alice Vanni, daughter of an old dancing professor who dies and leaves her to be exploited by her faithless mother. She finds out the true situation just in time to marry the man she loves.

Wednesday—"In the Heart of a Fool."

This is the story of a moral leper whose heart was that of a fool. His self-indulgence, wrecking the life of others, also shattering his own, though when the occasion demands it his spirit rises to the supreme heights of self sacrifice and courage. He ran up against two kinds of women—Laura Nesbit was the sort who could make a man while the Lovell was the kind who breaks instead of makes.

Thursday—"To Please One Woman."

This is a Lois Weber production based on one of the challenges of the age—how to please the one woman in a man's life.

At the Pictorium.

Today—William Fairbanks in "The Heart of the West."

This is a story of men, in the full meaning of the word, of desires, of love of hats and of the struggles of our early pioneers and gold seekers, when the law of the land was the six shooter and when the survival of the fittest meant the quickest of the draw.

Wednesday—"A Beggar in Purple."

He dedicated his life to making another pay for a certain wrong and in his desire for revenge he plowed through every obstacle and won. With the fulfillment of his ambition came the realization that the girl he loved was marrying him for his money. Then came to him misfortune which later proved to be good fortune.

Thursday—June Caprice in "Rogues and Romance."

An American girl visiting Spain falls in love with a revolutionist who has a price on his head. After she has been captured and held for ransom she is glad enough to have her American lover rescue her and take her where she will never see a revolutionist again.

GUINEA CHICKS THRIVE BEST ON WELL-BALANCED RATION

Guineas are fed in much the same way as chickens, but they require less feed, as they are natural rangers and can be trusted to find enough seeds of weeds and grasses, buds, insects and green vegetation in the fields to supply much of their living. For the first 36 hours after hatching no feed is required, as the sustenance from the egg is sufficient to nourish them for this period. The first meal may consist of a little hard-boiled egg mixed with bread crumbs, or bread may be soaked in milk, squeezed partly dry, and fed in small bits. Chattered milk also is very good, poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say.

Three times a day is as often as they need to be fed, one feed consisting of chattered milk or bread crumbs and egg or bread and milk mixture, and the other two of chick feed. If the coop is placed in a field or pasture where green feed is available, the guinea chicks can secure this for themselves, otherwise, sprouted oats, dandelion leaves, lettuce, or onion tops cut fine should be furnished. Water, grit, and fine oyster shell should be before them always.

By the end of the first week the young guineas will be finding enough worms and insects to take the place of the egg or milk feed, so this may be eliminated and chick feed given morning and night. If chattered milk is available, however, it can be continued with excellent success, since guineas are very fond of variety in their ration and it is conducive to quick growth. As the birds grow older whole wheat, oats, and cracked corn can be substituted gradually for the chick feed.

NEW PAVEMENT OPEN FOR TRAFFIC SATURDAY MORNING

New paving east of town on the road leading to Oklaunion will be opened for traffic Saturday morning, according to an announcement of the county engineer. This stretch will aid materially to the pleasure of local automobilists.

Reports from Wichita county indicate that the stretch of pavement from Iowa Park to Wichita Falls has also been opened to the public.

The new dry chief was one of President Harding's earliest supporters for the Presidency.

SALADS FOR THOSE WHO LIKE CHEESE

Cheese often makes delicious addition to a salad. The following recipes for salads in which cheese plays an important part are recommended by food specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture:

Cheese Jelly Salad.

1/2 cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon gelatin, 1 cup whipped cream, salt and pepper to taste.

Mix the cheese with the whipped cream, season to taste with salt and pepper, and add to the gelatin dissolved in a scant cup of water. This may be molded in either large or small molds. When the jelly begins to harden, cover with grated cheese. The jelly should be served on a lettuce leaf, preferably with a cream or French dressing to which a little grated cheese has been added.

Cheese And Pimento Salad.

Stuffed canned pimientos with cream cheese, cut into slices, and serve one or two slices to each person on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese and Tomato Salad.

Stuff cold tomatoes with cream cheese and serve on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese Salad And Preserves.

Epicures have devised a dish which consists of lettuce and French dressing served with cream cheese and thick preparations of currants or other fruits preserved in honey or sugar. Owing to the fact that the seeds have been extracted by a laborious process, these fruit preparations are fairly expensive. The soft cheese often found in market is also relatively expensive. There is a suggestion in this dish, however, for others which are much less costly. Ordinary cottage cheese served with lettuce or other green salad and a small amount of rich home-made preserves, is a combination with much the same character, and very appetizing.

Deviled Eggs With Cheese.

In making deviled eggs, either to be eaten alone or upon lettuce leaves in the form of salad, a little grated cheese may be mixed with the yolks in addition to the usual salad dressing and flavorings.

Plain Cheese Salad.

Olive And Pimento Cheese.

Mash any of the soft cream cheeses and add chopped olives and pimientos in equal parts. This mixture requires much salt to make it palatable, the amount depending chiefly on the quantity of pimientos used. The mixture may be spread between thin slices of bread or it may be made into a roll or molded, cut into slices, and served on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese balls are often served with salad. They are made of soft cream cheese, and are frequently combined with chopped chives, olives, sweet peppers and nuts. Cooked egg yolk, spinach extract, etc., are sometimes mixed in for the sake of color. If the balls are rolled in chopped chives or parsley, both flavor and color are supplied.

Service Resumed On Frisco.

Service has been resumed on the Frisco into Vernon after an interruption of several days due to heavy rains. The first train came through Saturday night and the old schedule is being observed again.

THERE'S LOTS TO SEE UNDER THE CANVASS TOP

Have you been out on West Tague Street under the big canvas top the past week? Did you hunt up that old fan from the depths of the china closet and that folding chair you had stored away in the attic? Well, everyone else did, too, and the tent has been full of them.

There has not been such a "get together" affair for Vernon town folks for many months. You will find Mrs. Jones and the children, Widow Smith Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and all the rest of the neighbors, and everyone appears to be enjoying himself immensely.

The children have been better than usual this year, too. Johnny and Mary and the host of others have evidently been the targets of lectures at home from mother and dad on the necessity for absolute quiet and absence of impatient wiggling while lecture or entertainment is in progress.

Tent Not Uncomfortable.

It is not as hot under the "big top" as one might think. The flaps are turned up and the June breezes have easy access. In addition, one forgets the heat during most of the performances, the body ignores any minor discomforts while the mind drinks in a lecture or finds relaxation in music or play.

It is worth while, this week-long entertainment which has come to the people of the community. The best talent in the country offers its knowledge, its wit and its humor for the benefit of local audiences. It is worth carrying a chair a long ways, or waving a fan most vigorously for hours just to profit by.

Christians Defeat Methodists.

Four runs in the final inning of the game spelled defeat for the Methodist Sunday School baseball team yesterday afternoon after it had led the Christian aggregation for two successive innings. The game ended 6 to 4 in favor of the Christian team. Methodists made six errors which helped materially in costing the game, as Lovelace pitched excellent ball throughout the contest.

BARGAIN BASEMENT OPENING AND JUNE CLEARANCE SALE

Two of Our Biggest Events Rolled Into One SALE BEGINS SATURDAY, JUNE 25, LASTS 10 DAYS

On Saturday, June 25th, we will open our new BARGAIN BASEMENT, the biggest thing of its kind in Vernon. We venture to say that it will be impossible for you to find a more complete stock of home furnishings anywhere than we will show you at our big opening. We are following, to the letter, our slogan "We Sell For Less." You will be greatly surprised at the remarkably low prices on all of our stock of goods in the BARGAIN BASEMENT.

We are combining our June Clearance Sale with the opening of our BARGAIN BASEMENT. We offer to the people of Wilbarger and surrounding counties, during these two big trade events, some of the most exceptional buying opportunities that can be found anywhere. A real money-saving proposition on everything, in our Dry Goods Department as well as the BARGAIN BASEMENT.

During these 10 days we have a place where your money will have its maximum buying power.

IT'S UP TO WILBARGER.

By a vote of 7 to 1 Wichita County declared Saturday in favor of changing $1,500,000 five per cent 40-year
 bonds into an equal amount of six per cent 30-year serial bonds to build permanent highways. The sale of these six per cent bonds has already been arranged.

Wichita's highway system will include the main road from the Clay
 county line to the line of Wilbarger county, a road from Wichita Falls to Red River, via Burk Burnett; and a road toward Seymour to the Baylor county line. State and Federal aid will make the total to be expended in Wichita County slightly more than $3,000,000.

The advantage of such a system of highways to Wichita County can not be overestimated. Wichita farmers can haul their produce to market in half the time required on dirt roads;
 Furthermore, they can go to market
 whenever it suits their convenience—
 rain or shine. So, also, can their families go to Wichita Falls, Iowa Park,
 Electra, or Burk Burnett at any time.
 This means that practically every farmer in Wichita county is a citizen of one of the towns of the county—and he does not have any of the disadvantages of the towns.

While the value of such a system of highways can not be computed in dollars, it is not difficult to visualize
 something of their value in the saving
 of time to the farmer, in the making of farm life more attractive, and, as a result, their influence in attracting the most progressive farmers to Wichita county.

The State and Federal Governments
 offer to pay more than half the cost of constructing a permanent system
 of highways in Wilbarger county.
 How much longer will our people object to paying the other half?

BOOST YOUR TOWN!

Those who failed to hear the talk of Charles H. Plattenburg at the chautauqua last Friday night were denied a real privilege. Regardless of sex, creed, race, or age the lecture applied equally well and was all embracing in its scope and appeal.

Mr. Plattenburg talked on "The Town You Live In," and talked with a manner that betokened years of experience in studying the ailments of the average country town and the antidotes to remedy them. The chronic knocker, the mail order house patronizer, the restless citizen—all shared in the criticism of the man who believes that a town good enough to live
 in is good enough to stand by.

The arguments of the chautauqua lecturer were those which would be naturally employed by the average logically thinking business man of today. They set forth reasons why a community cannot thrive without the co-operation of all its citizens, why a critical spirit on the part of its residents will do more to turn aside the prospective newcomer than all the lack of allies that may exist.

A message such as the one given by Mr. Plattenburg is a blessing to the average community. It stimulates a line of thought too frequently neglected by the general public, it places in a different light the proposition of loyalty and patriotism to the town one lives in.

The speaker stressed particularly the folly of patronizing mail order houses. From personal observations
 he quoted examples of the inferior quality of goods often dispensed from these establishments. Bringing that phase of the subject of a more local basis, it will be remembered that when Sears Roebuck Co. was selling sugar
 last winter at $16.30 per hundred pounds, Vernon grocers were selling
 the same product at $16. Similar discrepancies can be found in many other lines of goods.

The matter is well worth pondering
 over. It is not entirely one-sided in its scope,—all the sacrifice will not have to be entailed by the general public. The merchant must be content with a fair and legitimate profit if he is to expect the constant loyalty of his patrons. Pride, patriotism, and cooperation from the citizens of a community will go further toward producing a city of worth while calibre than any number of other efforts combined.

INCREASING THE LIFE RATE.

Approximately 100,000 men, women and children die in America every twelve months from tuberculosis. It has been found that one of the most frequent sources of infection by the great white plague is from the milk of tuberculous cattle.

Viewed in this light the matter of a tuberculin test for our cows assumes an importance heretofore unthought of.
 Men hesitate to spend $5, or even $1
 for testing an animal now, because they haven't realized the danger of the disease to the cow, or horse, or hog.

But when we know that the milk
 our children drink may contain deadly
 germs—then the payment of even $5
 for a test is an infinitesimal amount.
 Think of the money and the suffering
 it may save some loved one who might otherwise become a victim of the great white plague.

The tuberculin test for our cattle
 is one of the effective methods devised
 for helping eliminate humanity's greatest scourge.

WHY NOT AN INHERITANCE TAX.

Among all the reasonable propositions advanced by Dr. Frank Dixon
 in his Chautauqua lecture Sunday night—and all of them seem reasonable
 —for making more efficient our governmental machine, was that of an inheritance tax for paying our enormous national debt. It amounts to about twenty-five billion dollars.

A graduated inheritance tax would work a hardship on no one. It would not tend to stifle initiative as it is claimed that the income tax does, and it would unsettle industry as little as any other disposition of the inheritance.

Dr. Dixon says that from nine to ten billion dollars pass each year in the form of inheritance. So that it would not be difficult to subtract from this
 an amount ample to meet our needs,
 at least to a very large degree, without working a hardship on any one.

The exemption could easily be large enough to permit ample provision for any dependent on the deceased. Further than that, it seems most equitable that any accumulations should go to the general welfare.

Red Cross Will Have Shower In Order To Get Articles Essential For Needy Sick Persons.

A shower for the Red Cross Loan Closet will be held at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Swartwood. Everyone is invited to come and bring one or more of the following articles: sheets, pillow cases, night-gowns for men, women, and children, bath towels, face towels and wash cloths. A social hour will be made as enjoyable as possible for those who attend the shower and refreshments will be served.

The loan closet is being fitted out for the benefit of sick persons in needy circumstances and will be in charge of Miss Rose Eihmann, Red Cross nurse, who will see to the loaning and the returning of the articles.

The Free Milk and Ice Fund will also be started tomorrow afternoon, as money is needed immediately and it has been decided that it would not be advisable to wait for funds until proceeds are received from the rummage sale.

PRESS LAUDS YOUNG GOTCH.

Newspapers Pass Much Favorable Comment On Wrestler Who Appears Here July 4.

Newspaper clippings from various portions of the State credit Young Gotch, the middleweight wrestler, with much more than average ability. Gotch recently won decisions over Kid Thomas of St. Paul and Young Zyzbicko of Corsicana, and he is given considerable praise by the press.

Demon Bartell of Wichita, Kans., and Sailor Lewis have been two more recent victims of Gotch's wrestling prowess.

Gotch has declared that he will meet any Texas wrestler anywhere, stating that he particularly wants to meet Pet Brown, the noted Taylor grappler. He also has a match scheduled with Henry Irslinger. Young Gotch is known in Vernon, having been present on the occasion of wrestling matches in this city.

HOUSECLEANING IS NOT HARD IF THE PROGRAM IS ADOPTED

Housecleaning need not be the bugbear it has long been regarded in many households. If the work is carefully planned, if the kind of furnishings that are easy to keep clean are chosen and handled in the right way, and if provision is made for keeping all the dirt possible out of the house, there will be no need for the upheavals that result in discomfort to the entire household. The following are good rules by which to organize the housecleaning:

Keep dirt out of the house by cleaning the walks, steps, porches, and sills regularly and often, by screening windows and doors near the ground, and by insisting on having muddy shoes and coats cleaned, or left outside.

Lessen the number of dust-collecting places, such as unnecessary cupboards, grooved and curved woodwork, floors with cracks, rough-finished walls, elaborately carved and upholstered furniture, superfluous draperies, and bric-a-brac.

Remove dirt frequently and systematically. This keeps the house and furnishings in better condition, and makes the need of heavy cleaning less frequent.

Clean by taking the dirt away, not by scattering it, to settle again elsewhere.

Do heavy cleaning a little at a time to avoid the hard work and discomforts of the old-fashioned spring and fall housecleaning.

Have a supply of good cleaning tools such as your work calls for, and keep them in good order in a convenient place.

Use water and cleaning agents sparingly because otherwise they may spoil finishes and weaken glue, paste, or cement.

Watch for troublesome insects and animals, and take prompt measures to get rid of them if they appear.

Make all the family help by leaving things where they belong, and in good condition.

These rules are given by the United States Department of Agriculture in a new Farmers' Bulletin, No. 1180, Housecleaning Made Easier.

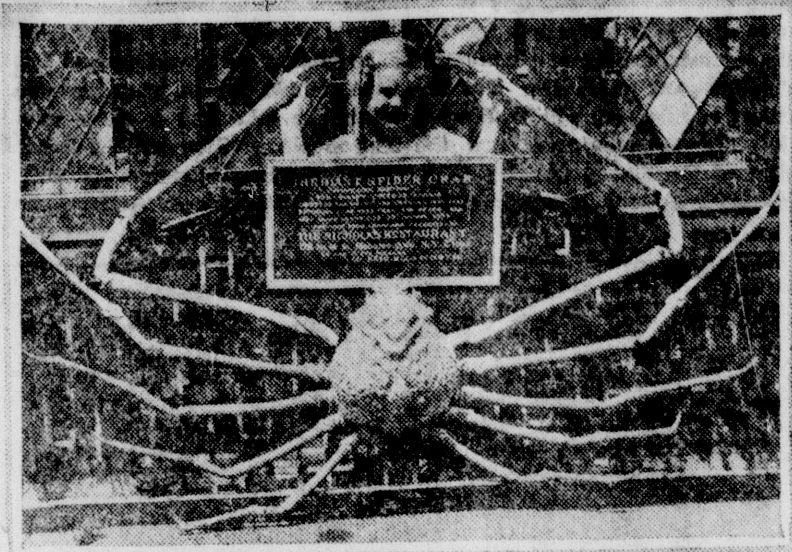

DO NOT INTERFERE WITH WIFE'S BUSINESS

An Oklahoma man was totally paralyzed while sweeping a floor, an East Texas man had his eye knocked out while splitting stove wood, a West Texan cut his foot off while hoeing in a garden, and we lost part of our finger in a lawn mower. If men will insist on fooling with their wife's business after reading this list of warnings, they must assume all responsibility.—Exchange.

WHEN IT COMES TO CRABS, THIS ONE TAKES CAKE.

If you were to meet this Giant Spider Crab ("Cacochira Kaempferi") while in bathing it is very evident that your afternoon's pleasure would be over. This enormous crustacean, the largest crab ever caught, is estimated to be more than 500 years old. The front claws of the crab are each fifty-five inches long, which is longer than the entire length of six-year-old Rita Rogan, shown in the photograph. The monster is on exhibition at the Nicholas Restaurant, One Hundred and Seventy-eighth street and St. Nicholas avenue, New York City. The giant crab was caught in the Yellow Sea last winter.

My back ached and throbbled day and night right through the small part and through my hips. There was a dull, bearing down pain in my back and this hurt me so I could hardly do my housework. When I stooped over to pick up anything I became so dizzy I would almost fall on the floor. My head ached all the time and my kidneys were very irregular in action. I tried different remedies but received no benefit. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and one box of this medicine cured me entirely."

Charles H. Plattenburg, Chautauqua Lecturer, Declares Every Citizen Owes a Debt To His Community—Says Every Advancement of Town Entails Sacrifice.

The address of Charles H. Plattenburg Friday night was one which vitally concerned everyone in Vernon. It dealt with the community in all of its phases, the need for co-operation on the part of citizens, the necessity for boosting the town and its attributes, and the essential part loyalty plays in the advancement of a community.

Mr. Plattenburg, who is a native Missourian but a resident now of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, possesses a peculiar method of address that grips the attention of the audience from first to last. His message is given in a forceful, convincing manner that drives home every point he wishes to make.

Loyalty Means Faith.

Loyalty, said the lecturer, means full of faith. There is often a woeful lack of patriotism in a town the size of Vernon, and this is one reason why there is such a stream of population emigrating from the smaller communities to the large cities.

California residents were used by Mr. Plattenburg as examples of live, energetic boosters. In that State, he said, every bush is a tree, and every town possesses some one thing that surpasses anything of its kind in the world.

Should Boost Town.

The only way to make one's home town prosper, said the speaker, is to boost it at every opportunity. Every individual owes a debt to his community and still it is the last one he wants to pay. He must realize, however, that it is not charity but a real indebtedness he owes. Were it not for the town he lives in, few of his possessions would have any considerable monetary value.

Mr. Plattenburg dwelt upon the huge size of Texas, and remarked that were its population as dense as that of Belgium, it would contain 300,000,000 people. Lack of co-operation and boosting, however, has made the State drag in the matter of adding to its population, and New York City in ten years added 100,000 more people to its census than did the entire State of Texas.

Scores Mail Order Houses.

Patronage of mail order houses was blamed especially by the lecturer for the decline of many smaller towns. He declared that dealings with these establishments by citizens are the means of throttling the life out of the very community in which they live. The best platform upon which to build a thriving town is one that stipulates that business men shall be satisfied with a fair and legitimate profit, and people of the town shall be loyal to the merchants. Mr. Plattenburg mentioned an Iowa town that is now nearly defunct because its citizens commenced an active patronage of mail order houses several years ago. Eight thousand towns in the United States suffered the same way.

Quality considered, said the lecturer, it is probable that one can buy as cheaply in Vernon as anywhere in the world. Mr. Plattenburg pointed out the inferior quality of many mail order goods, and the cost entailed in shipping them. There is just one way to build up a town, he said, and that is to spend money in it.

All leaders do not come from the cities. Mr. Plattenburg informed his audience. When the Great War occurred, five of the most prominent figures in settling difficulties were men who started life as country boys. Wilson, Pershing, Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Marshall Foch—all these spent their boyhoods in small communities.

Population Is Centered.

One-tenth of the people in the United States live in New York, Chicago, or Philadelphia, said the lecturer. This is an unhealthy condition which can only be remedied by making the small towns fit places to live in.

Everything worth while costs something, the audience was told. Buildings, progress, and advancement of the community's interests can only be accomplished through sacrifice. The object of each citizen should be to help make his environment so attractive that persons would rather live in Vernon than any place else.

Mr. Plattenburg's remarks were not delivered with any degree of caustic criticism. He tempered his eliding with such charm of personality as well as complimentary remarks that they were insured of ready reception by everyone present.

SCIENCE, HE'S FOR IT.

"Yes, doctor," agreed baby John William, after a careful adjustment of his gold-rimmed spectacles, "my opinion in the matter coincides perfectly with your own." And then after a deliberate peek through the microscope, "The old days of haphazard bringing up of children should indeed be relegated to a dim and dismal past. Science—this is the cry of our present day and age. And in the name of the Babies' Mutual Aid and Benevolent Association of Chicago, I want to say I'm strong for it." CHAUTAUQUA MANAGER AT FREDERICK LIVED IN VERNON

Rev. Gordon Lang, who is in Frederick, Okla., as manager of a Redpath-Horner chautauqua, will be remembered by many local residents as a former citizen of Vernon. Dr. Lang was living in this city and was a member of the Presbyterian church here when he entered the ministry.

The minister is quoted by The Frederick Leader as remarking about that town, "There were more rattlesnakes and gophers than human population in this part of Oklahoma when I came to Frederick as the first pastor of the Presbyterian church, back in 1901." From Frederick Mr. Lang went to New York to attend a theological school.

No. 381

An Ordinance Regulating the Parking of Trucks, Wagons, Floats, Drays and other Vehicles Used in the Business of Hauling and Transporting Freight for the Public for Hire as Common Carriers and Providing Adequate Penalties for the Violation Thereof.

Be it Ordained by the City (Commission) of Vernon, Texas:

Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person driving, using or operating any Truck, Wagon, Float, Dray or other vehicle within the City of Vernon engaged in the business of hauling or transporting freight for the public for hire to park same at any point on Main street between the North line of Marshall Street and the South line of Madison street, or at any point on Wilbarger street between the East line of Fannin street and the West line of Cumberland street, or at any point on Texas street between the East line of Fannin street and the West line of Cumberland street; provided this ordinance shall not be construed so as to prohibit any such vehicle from being stopped or parked for a reasonable time while actually loading or unloading freight.

Sec. 2. Any person who shall violate any provision of the foregoing section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 3. That this ordinance shall take effect from and after its approval and publication.

Witness my hand and seal of said City, this 15th day of June, A. D. 1921.

Attest: S. H. HALL, CLERK. HARRY MASON, Mayor.

IS NEW COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

John G. Emery, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who served as the National Vice-Commander of the American Legion, has succeeded the late Colonel Fred Bathra as the Commander. Mr. Emery, who is in the real estate business in Grand Rapids, entered the army as a captain of infantry and went overseas November 27, 1917. He was discharged March 31, 1919. He is a member of the State Executive Committee of the American Legion and of the Military Order of Foreign Wars. He served on the special committee of the legion that drew up the four-fold plan of adjusted compensation that later were embodied in the Fordney bill. He is a member of the Carl A. Johnson Post, No. 1, of the Department of Michigan.

The German Government is instructing many soldiers blinded during the war in the use of the typewriter, thus enabling them to earn their livings. TRANSPORTATION COSTS WILL COMPEL FARMERS TO GROW MORE FOOD AT HOME

Increased transportation costs, and lessened returns from the products they have to sell will compel thousands of American farmers to grow more of their own food, in the opinion of officials of the United States Department of Agriculture. These transportation costs will prevent shipments of the more moderate priced fresh fruits and vegetables which are purchased by the growers of single crops or specialties for use in their own homes, and the lack of a market for special products in turn will be a blow to the buying capacity of the growers of those specialties.

"The American farmer is not going to be able this year to pay freight on water," said a department official. "Water makes up a large part of fresh fruits and vegetables. The answer is that he must grow his own table food. He must also study the possibilities of substitution. This applies to vegetables, fruits, poultry, eggs, and dairy products which must be transferred from commercial channels to home consumption if they are to come within the reach of the average farmer's family."

"Specialized farming has created conditions of which comparatively few persons are aware. The grain farmer in many instances buys even his potatoes and green vegetables; the fruit farmer buys his dairy products; and even the man who raised milk for creamery, condensary, or cheese factory is likely to send his cream or milk away, feed the skim milk or whey to the calves, and not make his own butter. This year, just as far as possible for him to alter his system in a single season, the department officials advise that he get back to the old plan which was aptly described as 'living at home.' This means not so much remaining on the farm as it does deriving every practicable product for consumption from the farm."

"The average American farmer knows how to raise other crops than those on which he specializes, but it has seemed good business, or at least expedient, to devote his energies to very few or even a single cash crop and buy his necessities, just as is done in other specialized industries. The grain farmer is perfectly capable of raising his own potatoes, his green garden stuff and melons, tomatoes and other garden fruits, to take the place of orchard fruits which in many parts of the country have been killed by the late freezes. If the farmer has a piece of really good garden ground he can add materially to the variety and wholesomeness of the farm food supply with scarcely any expenditure except for seeds, and seeds, fortunately, are lower this spring than for several years."

"The same may be said of poultry. With increased freight rates this year the general farmers principal meat supply will come out of his poultry yard, either in eggs or in table chickens and other fowls. Poultry is the quickest meat supply to produce, and the farmer will do well to build up a small flock as rapidly as possible. The increased freight rates on butter and eggs, together with the farm money shortage due to the disappointing returns from last year's crops, will make it advisable for many farmers' wives to return to butter-making arts which they learned as girls from their mothers, and which have been largely discontinued as farmers became specialists."

"Fruit is likely to be scarce in large and important farming regions, but its place can largely be taken by vegetable products. Two things are clear. In the first place, the average farmer, as it stands now, can not afford to pay freight rates on the water which makes up the larger part of both fresh and canned vegetables and fruits. In the second place, under existing conditions, he can raise those things cheaper himself than he can buy them, and he can make many substitutes out of the garden and poultry yard if he sets out to do it. He has not the money. It is not good business to run in debt except for essentials of production."

The Department of Agriculture will be glad to give information and advice to those who wish to diversify their home-grown food supply.

PROTESTS AGAINST ARTICLE CONCERNING LEAGUE WORKERS

A protest concerning an article which appeared in a recent issue of The Record as an interview with Chamber of Commerce officials concerning Anti-Saloon League solicitors working in Vernon last July has come to the editor's desk. The communication is from Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, who declares that the workers in this community were bona fide representatives from the League, and not imposters as represented by the chamber.

Mr. Webb, who goes into a mass of detail concerning the activities of the representatives here and the purposes of the League, declares that the amount gained here was but $351.50. He denies the implication that the Anti-Saloon League is not needed by the Government, and quotes a number of testimonials to prove his point.

THE U. S. USCO TREAD

Here is the U. S. Usco Tread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S. Fabric line, the Usco has earned a reputation for quality and dependable economy which is not exceeded by any tire in its class.

Which one of your neighbors gets the best mileage out of his tires?

EVERY once in a while you hear a motorist say as he kicks a rear tire with an admiring foot, "there's a lucky tire!" Give him a chance and he'll tell you all about it. And then you'll find that what he calls "luck" is simply his first experience with a quality standard tire.

It all comes to this—buy a U. S. Tire anywhere in this country and you get definite, predictable value for your money no matter what weight car you drive.

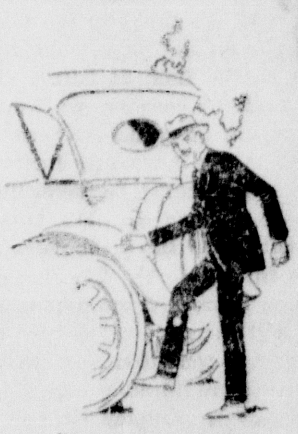

The man who has been guessing his way through "overstocks," "discontinued lines," "job lots" and the like, will find it refreshing to talk with the local U. S. Tire dealer who is concentrating on a full, completely sized line of U. S. Tires.

For the first time he will hear some straight quality tire facts—and get the difference between chance and certainty in tire buying.

The U. S. Tires he sees in stock are fresh, live tires. They come direct to the dealer from his neighboring Factory Branch.

SAYS WAR LEFT US MANY TREMENDOUS PROBLEMS TO SOLVE

Frank Dixon, Chautauqua Lecturer of National Fame, Points Out Needed Reforms in Government—Believes Powers of President Should Be Limited—Wants Compulsory Ballot.

The War has left us tremendous problems which we have taken but few steps to solve, was the message given to those in attendance at the chautauqua Sunday night by Frank Dixon, American lecturer of national fame. Mr. Dixon talked on "The Indispensable Tools of Democracy" and his address went to the heart of existing ills in our Government today and suggested needed reforms. The talk was calculated to spur the listeners on to thought and action concerning timely questions that have not been decided and which few have the courage to discuss.

The blame for high prices was placed mainly on the general public by the noted lecturer. People have insisted on paying extravagant charges for articles, he said, and the merchants have only taken advantage of this tendency.

Take Limits Off Production.
The only way in which to bring business back to a sound basis, the audience was told, is to take the limits off of production. The manufacturer who curtailed production and the worker who insists on loafing on the job must be eliminated.

We must replace the capital destroyed by the great War through taxation, Mr. Dixon declared. The financial condition of the world today makes this a big problem. The manhood of the country has made its contribution toward the nation's welfare, he said, but the wealth has not.

The graduated inheritance tax was advocated by the chautauqua speaker as the only method of taxation that would not work a hardship on anyone. In this way, he said, the national debt could be paid within ten or fifteen years.

Must Legalize Unions.
The question of daily wages was also dealt with in the lecture. Organized labor, the audience was told, is the most powerful and dangerous force in the world today. At present it is outside the law, it has no more responsibility than has a child or an idiot, simply because the law will not permit it to. Governments deal with this force as though it were a foreign enemy.

The reform needed is to require labor unions to come within the law, to be responsible. Mr. Dixon stated. Then they can incorporate and make contracts that are binding.

Concerning peace, the speaker said the entire nation desires this condition and so is easily deceived concerning the danger it may be in from foreign foes. This danger was likened to disease which none of us want but which we are likely to contract. The in fightfulness in comparison to the conflict which will come. Combat in past War, he said, was only a trifle the air and under the water will feature the next struggle, he said, and great cities like New York can be wiped off the map in a few hours.

Disarmament No Cure.
We cannot prevent this from happening by disarming, said Mr. Dixon. We must agree to universal conscription of every man, woman, and child as well as our entire wealth for the next conflict. There must be instant military discipline everywhere. It will be necessary to suspend private debts and devote every dollar to the Government.

Persons should draw Government rations and wages. It would be against the law to make money out of the nation's peril, and no more than fair that those at home should be subject to the same laws of discipline as those who risk their lives on the field of battle. In this way, said the speaker, we would pick up our life after the war exactly where we laid it down, and furthermore, the nation would be invincible.

In discussing the farmer, Mr. Dixon declared that he is the most defenceless person in the world. The farmer is the burden bearer of the nation, he said, and will remain so as long as he permits this condition to exist. When his barns are bursting with plenty he is nearer bankruptcy than ever before. The proposition is up to the farmer to organize his forces in order to market his produce more effectively.

The place of the ultra-conservatives and the radicals in this country were discussed by the lecturer. He declared that neither have any position with the American people.

Local Governments Strong.
Paralysis of our Government through party differences was also dealt with in the lecture. The audience was shown what this meant in the past War, and how the machinery of administration has been tied up during many periods. The secret of this nation's strength, he said, lies in the efficiency of its local governments. When there are questions to decide,

Mr. Dixon divided the Constitution into two parts, principles and individual liberties. The principles are expressed in the preamble, he said, and are the expressions of a great free government. However, he pointed out, there must be the efficient machinery of government to work out these principles. The results achieved are no better than the tools used for achieving them. He discredited the charge that we are disloyal to our forefathers when we attempt to better the machinery they invented for carrying on the affairs of government. They could not foresee the future, and could make no provisions for caring for it.

The method of amending the Constitution was also attacked by the speaker. The two-thirds and three-fourths rule was criticised for not being democratic. A simple majority is the only true method, Mr. Dixon stated, and this should be through the means of a national referendum. The people should be permitted to decide on these questions, and not their various state legislatures.

In commenting upon the ballot, Mr. Dixon declared that there should be compulsory voting. The women of the nation, especially, are neglecting this important function after striving so long and earnestly to win the privilege.

Should Have Direct Vote.
The president of the United States should be chosen by direct vote, said the speaker. Under the present system the man in a small state has little chance of winning, and he must furthermore be a resident of a doubtful state to be in the running. Ohio was quoted as an example of this condition.

Four months between election and inauguration of the President is obviously unnecessary, the speaker said. Ten days is entirely sufficient. This length of time was left by the framers of the Constitution because of the time consumed in getting election returns in the early days.

The powers and prerogatives allowed our President are entirely out of proportion to those permitted other officials of the Government, said Mr. Dixon. He possesses more influence than does any monarch in the world, and has unlimited power in declaring war and peace.

Powers Have Grown.
These duties were assigned the nation's executive by the framers of the Constitution because George Washington was first president and carried the trust of all his countrymen. Today, however, those same powers have assumed more vast proportions. If the President refuses to draw up a treaty today, said the speaker, the Senate is powerless to force him to do so.

The veto power of the president was also attacked. Congress scarcely ever attempts to pass laws without first consulting the will of the President, he said. The principle of allowing equal authority to the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government is an impossibility, said Mr. Dixon. The power will gravitate to one or the other, and in this country it is to the executive.

This veto power should be denied the President, and then a cabinet formed within Congress. This is necessary to prevent inevitable conflict between cabinet members and Congress under the present system.

Must Adapt Machinery.
Our forefathers were concerned more with the principles of government and not the machinery, said the speaker. It depends upon us to adapt this machinery to the ends in view. We must have the means of instantaneously changing our administration if it becomes necessary. The action of England and France in this respect during the World War was quoted as an example.

Mr. Dixon ended his talk by declaring that he is not attempting to find fault with our Government, that he is not criticising its administration, but that he is merely attempting to point out some reforms that appear to be pressing needs today, and which will serve to further the interests of the country he loves.

FORMER VERNON GIRL WEDS.

Miss Edna Huff Becomes the Bride of Young Man Living in California.

Miss Edna T. Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Huff of Santa Anna, Calif., and Frank L. Wardlaw of that city were married Saturday, June 11 at high noon at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Huff and their daughter formerly lived in Vernon, and the bride was born and reared in this city.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony by motor for Santa Monica. Upon the completion of their honeymoon they will make their home at Prado on a ranch belonging to Mr. Wardlaw.

Miss Huff has many friends in Vernon, and was well known while in high school here. She moved from Vernon with her parents about two years ago.

Judge and Mrs. E. L. McHugh and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hourigan left for Fort Worth yesterday by automobile to attend the convention of county judges and commissioners of the State of Texas. Sidney Archer and O. A. McCaleb went to Fort Worth by train today.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Youngblood and family of Paducah spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Youngblood.
